Look out for the sleek tongued varments that tell you the Advance is not the best machine in the market. Those that tell you falsehoods are not worthy of being called by any other name. The ADVANCE is guaranteed to do more and better work than any other machine in the market and is the only machine on the Coast that has NEVER been replaced by other machines. Other dealers have offered new machines for an ADVANCE that has been run two years and have given parties to understand they would give differences, but were told that the ADVANCE, after two years' run was still much better than old fogy machines, if they were new. And if the ADVANCE engine is not the best traction engine, why is it that I have sold TWELVE on the West Side, between Portland and Corvallis, this year?

The Business Portion of Hailey, Idaho, Swept by Flame.

ONLY TWO STORES LEFT STANDING

The Loss Is About Half a Million or More With Insurance of 25 Per Cent.—The Firemen Were Powerless

HAILEY, I. T., July 2.—The entire business portion of Hailey except Swift & Regan's and S. J. Friedman's was destroyed by fire between 1 and 3 o'clock this morning. It was incendiarism, the fire being set out in the Nevada hotel. Four blocks were burned. A strong northerly wind put the fire beyond control. So rapidly did the fire spread that the engine house was in flames before the firemen could reach it. Everything was at the mercy of the flames.

The brick block beginning with the French corner was entirely destroyed.

The First National bank was consumed among the rest. The brick vault remains. Whether the contents are injured is a question.

The loss is estimated at from $[illegible]0 000 to $[illegible]0 000. The insurance is only $125 000, owing to the high rate.

At a public meeting held this afternoon a majority of the business men announced that they would rebuild.

HELP SENT FROM BELLEVUE

BELLEVUE, Idaho, July 2.—The entire business portion of Hailey was destroyed by fire this morning about 1:30. The water supply gave out and the hose burned. Assistance was rendered from Bellevue. The total loss is in the neighborhood of $500 000, with insurance of about $150 000. The business part of the town is completely wiped out.

THE DURANGO FIRE

The Loss Is About a Third or a Half Million Dollars

DENVER, Col., July 2.—Additional particulars received from the Durango conflagration say: As soon as fire was discovered the entire fire department was called out, but the streams of water which were poured on the fire seemed to aggravate the flames till they became so hot that the firemen were compelled to beat a hasty retreat.

Attention was then turned toward confining it to that part of town lying north of H street, but this the firemen were unable to do, for it became so hot that it was utterly impossible to get close to it, notwithstanding the wind was blowing in a diagonal direction. The roof of the city hall on the south side of H street took fire, and that building, along with a row of frame buildings near the city hall property, was consumed. The building occupied by M. J. Orr as a bakery and that occupied by Boyle & McCloskey were consumed.

Returning to the block where the fire originated, the remaining part of the block lying to the north was consumed, and crossing the street the Boston and the Willers photograph galleries, Chapman's hardware store, Grand Central livery stable, Clipper theater, Grand Central hotel, the Idea office and some twenty dwelling houses were completely destroyed. The courthouse, in which were the vaults containing the county and court records, was the next building doomed. It was only the work of an instant when the large structure was a mass of flames. The old Sherman house, across the street and north from the Grand Central, was the next target for the flames that were leaping madly to the south and west. It went in a jiffy, together with four or five buildings. Galloway's livery stable went along with the rest, also a row of residences in the same block facing Second street.

The flames were not satisfied with their work, but leaped across Second and [illegible] streets to the Methodist parsonage and church. The Presbyterian and Episcopal churches then caught fire, and with fifteen dwellings adjoining were completely destroyed.

The burned district comprises eight blocks in the center of the city and twenty five dwelling houses.

The firemen did excellent work, many of them being burned about the face and hands, but they were engaged in noble work and were willing to sacrifice themselves as much as necessary.

The loss is variously estimated at from $300 000 to $500 000, with insurance of about one third this amount.

At least 100 families are left homeless and destitute, having lost everything they possessed, and they will need assistance. Many saved only the clothing they had on their backs.

Insurance companies estimate the loss by the fire at $300 000, with from $75 000 to $80 000 insurance.

The heaviest losers are: W. C. Chapman, building, $25,000, insurance from $10 000 to $15 000; Grand Central hotel, loss $20 000, insurance $8000; Joseph Clark's, $10 000, barely insured; Presbyterian, Methodist and Episcopal churches, valued at $15,000, with $9000 insurance.

It is impossible to get an accurate list of those burned out to-night.

A ROUGH ESTIMATE OF THE LOSSES

DURANGO, July 2.—The results of yesterday's fire do not vary materially from the account sent out last night.

An accurate list of the losses, together with the insurance, has not yet been made out, but the property destroyed, including buildings and personal goods, will not fall short of $300,000, with $85 000 to $100 000 insurance.

Heaviest losses are: O. T. Boyle, building, $4000, insurance $1[illegible]00; The Weekly Idea, loss on printing matter alone, $4000, insurance $[illegible]00; the M. E. Church and parsonage, $7000, insurance $1800; the Presbyterian church, loss $6000, insurance $[illegible]; the city hall and town property, including fire engine and hose, $1[illegible]000, insurance $1600; the Sherman house, $7000, no insurance; the Grand Central hotel, building and furniture, $[illegible]0 000, insurance $8000; J. N. Galloway, $4000, insurance $1500; Anna Williams, $3000, no insurance; Clayton and Weinig, loss $[illegible]0 000, no insurance; J. A. Boston, $3000, no insurance; the Colorado house and goods, $7000, one third insured; Joseph Clark, brick building and wholesale liquor dealer, $15 000, partially insured; Episcopal church, $3000, no insurance; W. C. Chapman, hardware, $[illegible]5 000, about half insured; Charles Newman, $5000, insurance $2500; M. L. Moore, $8000, insurance $[illegible]500; A. C. Meyers, $2500, fully insured; the La Plata county court house, $7000, insurance $[illegible]000. The four vaults in the building protected the books in good shape.

Besides the above there are over one hundred persons owning buildings and property in the burnt district, with an average loss of $1200, with a large number having no insurance.

The burnt district was thickly settled, and there are between 500 and 700 people homeless. Many of them lost everything they possessed, but fortunately no lives were lost.

The citizens held a mass meeting this afternoon and subscribed for the temporary relief of the sufferers, and while it will come rather hard on the people, they have concluded not to wait for aid from the outside unless donations are sent in by individuals.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION.

A Council Held at the Lower Brule Agency in Dakota

LOWER BRULE AGENCY, Dak., July 2.—The Sioux commission arrived last evening. The old [illegible] say that lands in severalty means loss of power for them, and oppose the bill, but the young men favor it, and it is believed they will carry the day.

A council was held in the evening. Governor Foster was the first speaker. He explained the bill to the Indians in detail, and reasoned with them concerning their present condition and the necessity for a change. [illegible] He showed them the difference between the [illegible] bill and that of last year, and told them that they must not expect congress to be more liberal than it has been, unless they accept this proposition some day. Whether they agree or not, the people of Dakota will probably take a passage [illegible].

Major Warner carefully explained the bill and pointed out the provisions with reference to the allotments of lands. He talked with them at length about the benefits of civilization [illegible] said that the commission [illegible] accepted the bill the time when the Indians would [illegible] sooner than [illegible]

THE PENSION DEPARTMENT

A Letter of Instructions to Commissioner Tanner From Secretary Noble

WASHINGTON, July 2.—Secretary Noble has addressed a letter to Commissioner of Pensions Tanner, in which he calls the attention of that officer to the following regulation applicable to the pension bureau:

Order No. 108, January 8, 1885—Owing to the pressure brought to bear from all quarters to take cases out of their regular order, and as at this date poverty and hardship from further delay can be alleged of almost every applicant alike, therefore cases will be taken out of their order only when such cases are shown to the commissioner in writing as would satisfy other worthy claimants whose claims precede them, should they know the facts, that such action is proper. Hereafter no case will be advanced that is not clearly within this rule.

In his letter the secretary continues: It is hereby further ordered that this rule will be extended so as to embrace cases only where the applicant is in very great destitution or at the point of death. This regulation will not only be strictly enforced, but attorneys, agents or others persisting in applications contrary to its language and spirit will be disbarred from practice before the department. You will have this made public.

MANY DEAD AND DYING

A Terrible Railway Catastrophe in Virginia.

THE EXACT EXTENT IS IN DOUBT

But It Seems Probable That Thirty or Forty Lives Have Been Lost—A Washout Was the Cause

LYNCHBURG, Va., July 2.—A fearful accident by which several lives were lost and a large number of people injured occurred on the Norfolk & Western railroad this morning, one mile above Baxton's switch and thirty one miles above this city.

Rain had been falling almost continuously for twenty four hours, swelling the mountain streams greatly beyond their normal state. Several trains had passed over the road during the night, and it was thought that the line was safe for traffic notwithstanding the rains, and that no danger need be apprehended.

At the place of the accident, however, the water had undermined the roadbed and caused a washout about eighty feet long and fifty feet wide. The water at this point was ten feet deep. Into this watery gulch the engine made its frightful leap while running at the rate of thirty miles an hour, carrying with it the tender and eight cars.

As the engine struck the bottom the rushing of the water into the locomotive exploded the boiler. This fact generally augmented the catastrophe. Debris was thrown in every direction by the force of the explosion, injuring some of those on the train by the flying fragments and scattering fire brands, which ignited the woodwork of the coaches.

The flames spread and destroyed a large amount of mail and express matter, besides spreading panic among the already terror stricken passengers.

It is supposed that some of the passengers were unable to extricate themselves and were consumed in the flames. It is impossible to state the number of such persons, but the most reliable estimate places it at between twenty five and thirty. This number would be far in excess of the number killed.

Thirty of the wounded have been taken to Roanoke, thirteen to Bufordville and fifty to Liberty.

The adopted daughter of Mrs. Judge Thompson, of Augusta county, was killed, and Mrs. Thompson herself is known to be badly hurt.

Donovan, the engineer, with his fireman, was scalded and burned to death by the escaping steam. Train Dispatcher Lipsley was also burned to death.

Among the others who lost their lives were J. J. Rose, postal clerk, of Abingdon, Va.; John Kirkpatrick, of Lynchburg; W. C. Stead, and two children of a passenger on the train whose name can not be learned. Stead was an Englishman, and was the agent of the Idaho Hunting and Fishing expedition. He was on his way to England for supplies.

Major Casnell, superintendent of the Lynchburg division of the Norfolk & Western, was on the train and was seriously injured, as were also Baggagemaster Lord and Captain Johnston, who was in charge of the train.

I. B. Summers, postal clerk, was badly bruised, but fortunately escaped with his returning mate, Rose.

There is no telegraphic communication nearer the wreck than Liberty, and it is hard to get information from there, as the Norfolk & Western refused to permit reporters to go on the train which went there. A relief train was made up at Lynchburg late in the afternoon to go to the scene of the wreck. A number of physicians went on it to do what they could do for the wounded.

A dispatch received at 11 o'clock from the scene of the wreck, by way of Liberty, says there are six dead bodies in the ruins. The railroad company has taken a large corps of physicians to the scene of the wreck from Roanoke, Liberty and other points. It is thought that a large number of bodies were burned in the conflagration.

ARMY SIGNALS

The American Code To Be Used Instead of the English in the Future.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—By a general order issued from the army headquarters the American Morse code will hereafter be used by the army for all purposes of signaling, whether visual or accoustic, and the use of the English Morse, or continental code, will be discontinued.

This action was taken upon the recommendation of the chief signal officer, with a view to the simplification of the signal instruction and to the ready employment and utilization in time of war of skilled civilian telegraphers for military purposes. Fewer errors are supposed to result from the use of the English system, but it is slower than the American system, and its continuance would involve the employment of specially trained experts who would not be prepared in sufficient numbers in an emergency.

BURNING OIL.

A Pennsylvania Tank Struck by Lightning and Set Afire

WASHINGTON, Pa., July 2.—Lightning this evening struck a 40 000-barrel iron oil tank belonging to the Western and Atlantic Pipe Line company, and located with several others of a similar size at Johnson's station, on Charterer's railroad, six miles north of Washington. The tank contained 26 000 barrels of the fluid, and at this hour, 8 P. M., is burning at a lively rate. Men are hard at work digging trenches in order to lead the oil off in the least dangerous directions. An effort will be made to shoot the tank, which will allow the oil to run out from the lower part and will probably keep it from boiling over and setting the other tanks on fire.

DAVITT ON THE STAND.

A Denial of Le Caron's Statement to the Commission.

PRAISE FOR ALEXANDER SULLIVAN

The Clan na Gael Not a Murder Club—Witness's Actions While in America—His Relations With Parnell

LONDON, July 2.—Michael Davitt was examined before the Parnell commission to-day. Davitt declared that there was no truth in the account given by Le Caron before the commission concerning the proposals of John Devoy being submitted to Parnell. Parnell had nothing to do with witness's visit to America in 1878. Witness had intended to make another visit to America on a lecturing tour to raise money to help the agrarian movement.

Davitt said he had known Alexander Sullivan since 1878 and had the highest opinion of his ability as a lawyer, his character as a citizen and his honor as a man. He did not believe him capable of any dishonorable act.

Davitt stated that while in America he attended the meetings of the Clan na Gael, at which he explained the objects of the land league and tried to win the Clan na Gael to its support. The Clan na Gael, he said, included some of the best Irish men in America. It was no more a murder club than was the Carlton Club of London. There was no alliance between the Clan-na-Gael and the league in Ireland. The league movement in America won the support of all the Irish in America.

Parnell, witness said, and himself were opposed to the use of dynamite because it was an immoral and unmanly style of warfare. He was not opposed to physical force if in resorting thereto there were reasonable chances of success.

In reference to the Phœnix park murders, Davitt said that Parnell came to him on the Sunday following the day of the murders utterly broken down at the news. He said: "Davitt, I shall send my resignation to Cork to-night. I refuse to stay in the movement when irresponsible men of whom we know nothing can come behind our backs and perpetrate such deeds."

"It took all my influence," said the witness, "to dissuade him from resigning. We immediately had circulated throughout Ireland a manifesto condemning the murder. There was absolutely no ground for the suggestion that I or any of my colleagues were in any way privy to the crimes.

"I did not attend any meeting of the Clan na Gael after 1880. I believe murders were committed by members of the Clan na-Gael, but the perpetrators certainly did not have the sanction of the governing body nor the approval of the leaders."

Witness, continuing, said that in a letter which he wrote he used the word "pen," meaning a revolver. He declined to say to whom the letter was addressed.

The attorney general: "Was it Arthur Forrester?"

Davitt: "I cannot say without possibly injuring a man who greatly wronged me."

Presiding Justice Hannan said that the court respected the motive of the witness's reticence, but could not recognize it as an excuse for not answering.

Davitt thereupon said that the man to whom the letter was written had conceived a hatred for another member of the league and wished to murder him. Witness wrote to him, appearing to sanction the act that he meditated, but really to gain time until he could write to two of the superior officers and ask them to dissuade the man from his purpose. The expression used in the letter was: "Whoever is employed do not let him use the pen we have been using." Witness wrote to the two superior officers about the matter. He could not tell their names.

Davitt said that the dear friend to whom was addressed the letter in which the word "pen" appeared was now in America, and he publicly appealed to him to divulge his name.

THE HOUSE OF COMMONS

A Statement About Treaties Made by Sir James Ferguson

LONDON, July 2.—In the commons this evening Sir James Ferguson, parliamentary secretary of the foreign office, in answer to an inquiry, stated that the new treaty between Japan and Mexico had not yet been ratified. The treaty between the United States and Japan, which was signed February 20, would go into force February 11, 1890. The government, he said, would shortly begin negotiations with Japan, with the object of securing for England legal privileges with all other countries.

In relation to the treaty agreed upon by the Samoan conference at Berlin, he said that it would not be proper to divulge any of its provisions until it had been ratified by the United States senate. The statement, however, that England had agreed to retire from her position as one of the three protecting powers at Samoa, and to act only as umpire between the United States and Germany, was unfounded.

THE ROYAL BEGGARS.

The speaker read a message from the queen, commending to the house the granting of an extra provision to Prince Albert Victor of Wales and Princess Victoria of Prussia, on the occasion of their marriage.

Labouchere gave notice that he would oppose any votes of money for the prince and princess if they were proposed before a commission on royal grants was appointed.

ANOTHER PRINCESS OPENS HER MOUTH

LONDON, July 2.—It is reported that parliament will be asked to grant the Princess Louise, daughter of the Prince of Wales and fiancee of the Earl of Fife, an allowance of £7000 until she is married, and after her marriage an annual allowance of £16 000. The details have been imparted to Gladstone, who will meet his followers to-morrow to discuss the question of the proposed grants.

THE SHAH IS ANNOYED

At the Free and Easy Style of the American Press

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—A special from Washington says: Hadji Hussein Ghouly Kahl, Persian minister, is dissatisfied with America, and will leave Washington for Europe the latter part of next week. He is going to London to pay his respects to the shah. He cannot tell as yet whether he will return to the United States or not. He is out of conceit with Americans, or more properly with American newspapers. The press in this country, he says, has too much license. During the past year he has collected through a New York agency all the newspaper clippings obtainable about the Shah. The tenor of these articles, he says, is brutally unjust to his majesty, to whom they have been forwarded, and who is greatly annoyed at them. The minister did not say so in words, but he strongly intimated that as a result of these publications the Peruvian potentate would withdraw his diplomatic representative to the United States.

A CABINET CRISIS IMMINENT

It Is Thought That Thevenot and Rouvier Will Resign

PARIS, July 2.—A belief exists here that a cabinet crisis will result from the charge made by Casagnac in the chamber of deputies Saturday, that Thevenot, minister of justice, was an accomplice of Meyer in the recent Mobilier frauds, for [illegible] which Meyer has been sent to prison. It is rumored that both Thevenot and Rouvier, minister of finance, have determined to resign.

Two Ladies Thrown Upon the Beach at Clatsop.

ONE DEAD AND THE OTHER DYING

A Young Woman Deceived—A Gold Strike in a Rockland Cistern Creates a Great Sensation—Inland Notes

ASTORIA, July 2.—Mrs. Susan Wirt, an aged lady residing at Clatsop, and Mrs. Lizzie Wirt, her daughter-in-law, went riding in a buckboard on the seashore yesterday afternoon. Toward sundown the horses came dashing home, drawing the empty buckboard. Search was made for the ladies and they were found on the beach, one sitting and the other lying on the sand, almost submerged by the tide and both unconscious. They were conveyed home and surgical aid was summoned. The younger woman, Mrs. Lizzie Wirt, died at 1 o'clock this morning, unconscious to the last. The old lady is unable to give a coherent account of the accident and is still in danger of dying. It is supposed that the horses ran away and threw them out. There are no marks on the younger woman except a slight cut on the forehead, and no marks of injury on the older woman.

A LOGGER DROWNED.

David Graham was drowned in Gray's river last Sunday. He was running logs down the river and in trying to break a jam fell in. His friends were unable to rescue him. The body was recovered this morning.

A YOUNG WOMAN DECEIVED.

She Appeals to the Authorities to Escape a Life of Shame.

BUTTE, July 2.—Dolly Sanger, a young and rather prepossessing woman, made complaint to the police this morning against Fred Aupre and Annie Hevry. She was a waiter in a Chicago restaurant and there met Aupre and Hevry. They represented themselves as man and wife and asked her to accompany them and enter their household as a domestic, offering her transportation and good wages. She consented and came along with them. She was horrified upon her arrival when told that she was expected to lead a life of shame. She spurned the proposal and demanded her trunk. This was refused and she was told they would hold it for her fare from Chicago.

The parties were arrested for larceny, and if Miss Sanger's statements are found to be true a more serious charge will be brought against them.

GOLD AT ROCKFORD, W. T.

A Discovery in a Cistern Creates a Great Sensation.

ROCKFORD, W. T., July 2.—Gold has been discovered in the cistern of the water works. Intense excitement followed the announcement of the find. Mining claims are being staked everywhere.

FROM WALLA WALLA.

The Progressive Club's Ticket—A Bird Who Ran Away.

WALLA WALLA, July 2.—This evening Messrs. Sturtevant, Warren, Sullivan, Comegys and McCrosky, members of the constitutional convention from north of Snake river, and Messrs. Crowley, Blalock and Sharpstein, members from this county, P. B. Johnson and wife, Mrs. Sharpstein, Misses Rose and May Blalock and Gertie Starett left for Olympia.

G. W. Hunt left this evening for a three weeks business trip East.

The Progressive club has nominated the following candidates for city officers: N. G. Blalock, mayor; Henry Kelling, clerk; R. G. Parks, treasurer; J. A. Taylor, police justice; D. McLeod, street commissioner; M. P. Larton, commissioner; T. J. Robinson, marshal; Y. C. Blalock, health officer; councilmen, Messrs. Small, Stockwell, Straight, Roberts and Brewers. There is some talk of an opposition ticket.

Sunday at Dixie every preparation had been made for a fine wedding between J. I. Michael and Dolly A. Kimbal, but when the time came the bride was not forthcoming. An investigation disclosed that she had skipped to Waitsburg with another fellow, a youth under age at that, and unable to obtain a license.

KILLED HIS KLOOCHMAN.

The Crime of an Angry Kanaka, Who Found His Mistress False.

TACOMA, July 2.—Early this morning Peter Bargus, a Kanaka or Sandwich Islander, who has for some time been employed on the Tacoma mill with other Kanakas, shot his kloochman, whom he found in the arms of his bosom friend, and instantly killed her. Bargus had for some time been living with an Indian woman, to whom he was not married, and last night, with some other Kanakas, went out, leaving his kloochman at home after bailing one of his fast friends, who had been arrested for drunkenness.

Bargus, who is a lumber tally man, on his return home found that his mistress was not there, and immediately proceeded to smash everything in the shanty. After accomplishing this he walked to the cabin of his friend Peton for consolation, only to find his faithless mistress in bed with his false friend. Drawing a 44 caliber revolver, Bargus immediately shot the woman in the neck, and then fired at Peton, missing him, but turning savagely upon him Bargus succeeded in biting off the right ear of Peton, who was a fellow countryman.

The woman died almost instantly, and Bargus made his escape and so far has not been heard of.

SYMPATHY FOR A MURDERER.

An Attempt to Smuggle a Strychnine Pill Into His Cell.

HELENA, Mont., July 2.—Bryson, the murderer confined in the Boulder jail, has given it out that he will not suffer death by hanging. His numerous schemes so far have been frustrated. He is supported in his efforts to defeat the ends of justice by a number of ladies here and at Boulder, whose sympathy is excited in his behalf. Desperate efforts are being made to smuggle into him poison that will enable him to suicide.

A peculiar method was tried to-day. He received a pig puzzle accompanied by a note begging him to accept it and use it to pass away the time in prison. The sheriff on examination found one of the marbles in the box to have been made of bread crumbs carefully moulded around a pill. The pill was analyzed and found to contain a large quantity of strychnine.

FROM SEATTLE.

The Baseball Club Starts for Portland—Railroad Construction.

SEATTLE, July 2.—The Seattle baseball club left here this evening for Portland, where they play the Willamettes the 4th, 5th and 6th for the championship of the Northwest.

Eight hundred men are at work on the Seattle & Northern railroad on the Skagit river. Forty miles will be built this season.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Day Devoted to the Reading of Educational Papers, Etc.

SALEM, Or., July 2.—At the session of the State Teachers' Association Tuesday afternoon a piano duet entitled "Night Blooming Cereus Polka" was rendered by Miss Stratton and Miss Vera Good.

J. M. Williams, principal of the Eugene public school, read a carefully prepared paper upon the subject, "How to Secure Punctuality and Regularity."

President J. S. Sweet of the Ashland normal school lectured upon "Educational Instrumentalities."

"School Government" is the subject of a unique paper written and read by Professor G. A. Walker of the Albany public schools. The address was supplemented by Professor Adams and General W. H. H. Beadle, superintendent of the Chemawa Indian school.

A motion prevailed requesting Professor Walker to furnish a copy of his paper for the city papers of Salem and also for THE OREGONIAN for publication.

Hon. Ira G. Hoitt, state superintendent of California, was then introduced to the audience, and responded in an appropriate manner to the welcome extended him by Professor McElroy.

Mrs. Hoitt then very eloquently addressed the association on the progress of education in the great West.

Miss Millie Doughty of the state normal school of Monmouth read an able paper on "The Recitation."

Then by special request Colonel Copeland addressed the audience on the importance of the teacher's work.

EVENING SESSION.

State Superintendent McElroy announced that a reception would be given the members of the association by Mrs. Governor Moody at her residence.

Mrs. Strickler of Salem sang a delightful solo.

By request, Professor W. N. Hull of the State Agricultural college, read a selection.

Mrs. A. J. Garland, of Douglas county, entertained the audience with a recitation.

Miss Adams, of Marion county, sang a sweet solo.

State Superintendent Ira G. Hoitt, of California, was heartily greeted when he mounted the platform and commanded earnest attention throughout his lecture on "Graces and Follies of a Teacher's Life." He introduced his address by congratulating the teachers of Oregon that they have such an energetic, capable and enthusiastic superintendent as Professor McElroy. He also praised the members of the association for their excellent papers read to-day. Among other things he said: "The teacher's lot is a laborious one. One bad teacher will receive such severe criticism from the people that his life is a misery. Disciplinarians are sometimes born, but most have to learn the art of government. Vigilance in small matters is the secret of success. A teacher's voice should be so modulated in school that it will not distract the pupils. Be not reckless in the use of your voice. A quiet, calm voice makes a calm, quiet school. A broad liberal education is necessary to teach even a primary department well."

The speaker gave numerous incidents illustrating the need of scholastic improvement among teachers. He counselled courtesy in the school room and denounced slang. He showed the necessity of other graces, justice, kindness and earnestness, for a teacher's success. He then said: "The coming man is the child of to-day. The graces of gentle dealing should be stamped on the plastic soul. Physical culture should not be underestimated, both on the part of teacher and pupil. Ventilation and free calisthenics should be remembered by the teachers. He should be careful in the method he uses of imparting knowledge. Knowledge is the food of the mind."

The lecture was full of good thoughts, and the eloquent speaker made a strong favorable impression on the hearers who filled the large hall.

A solo by Professor Parvin ended the evening's entertainment. [illegible] announcement was made of a splendid programme for to-morrow. Captain Woodruff of Vancouver lectures in the evening.

Helena to Have a Better Water Supply.

HELENA, Mont., July 2.—Articles of incorporation of the Helena Water Company have been filed. The capital stock is $3,000,000. The incorporators are mostly Helena men, but are known to be backed by Boston capital. George F. Woolston is in charge of a water company here controlled by this syndicate, and in the interests of this company has secured control of all the water companies in Helena. There is a water famine in the city, and the supply is impure and full of deleterious substances. Woolston will go east at once to make arrangements to put the consolidated works in shape to supply the whole city. The aroused indignation of the citizens at the failure of the owners of water to furnish a sufficient supply has led to this result.

A Water Company Organized at Sprague.

SPRAGUE, W. T., July 2.—The Sprague Water Company, with a capital stock of $20,000, was organized here on Saturday last. The following board of trustees was elected: B. B. Glascock, George Brooke, O. C. Jensen, D. K. McPherson and T. Newman. Ten thousand dollars of the stock was subscribed in a few hours, and the work will be pushed forward as quickly as possible.

A Brakeman Killed.

CARSON, Nev., July 2.—This morning while helping make up a freight train for Virginia City, George Brown, jr., a brakeman, caught his foot in the frog of the track. A train was backing down, and before his foot could be extricated it crushed his leg, severing it from the body. He lived about one hour. Brown's father is ex-sheriff of Virginia City.

Election at Tacoma.

TACOMA, W. T., July 2.—At the election in the first ward to fill a vacancy caused by the [illegible] at the May election, John S. Fuller, ex-chief of police and claimant for the seat at the last election, was elected by a substantial majority. Fuller is a democrat.

A COLD BLOODED MURDER.

The Perpetrator Unmoved by the Enormity of His Crime.

SONOMA, Cal., July 2.—A cold blooded murder was committed at Nunn's Cañyon, four miles from Glen Ellen, late last evening. Joseph Weber, a wood chopper, was working in the mountains for Thomas Wilson, chopping wood. They had some misunderstanding in regard to the amount of work done, Wilson claiming that the wood was not corded right, but after a deal of talk a settlement was arrived at—all but a small amount, which was invested in liquor, of which they both drank, Weber getting drunk and lying down on the ground outside the house.

It seems the settlement did not satisfy Wilson, and he rushed upon Weber and cut his throat from ear to ear, but not cutting deep enough to cause death seized a shotgun and fired the contents into his mouth, tearing his whole face to pieces.

Wilson walked to his nearest neighbor's (Charles Johnson) and told him that he had finished Weber. Johnson went with Wilson to the house, and found Weber dead. The sheriff was notified and arrested Wilson. He was taken to Santa Rosa and landed in jail, where he slept as if nothing had happened.

Wilson is said to be a quarrelsome man, having been in trouble here a great many times. He also told when intoxicated that he had killed two men in Calmar, in Sweden.

Johnson says Wilson was sober when he came to tell him that he killed Weber, so that it looks as if Wilson got Weber drunk and murdered him in cold blood.

Weber, the victim, was a quiet, peaceable German. He was addicted to drink, but was not quarrelsome.

ARRIVAL OF THE SAN BLAS.

The General Opinion of Her Passengers Is That the Granada Will be a Total Loss.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The Pacific Mail Steamship Company's steamer San Blas arrived this morning from Panama. The San Blas and the wrecked steamer Granada were at Manzanillo together. At the time the steamer parted a strong gale was blowing, and while the officers of the San Blas know nothing definite, it is the general opinion of the passengers that the Granada will be a total loss.

The San Blas brings Panama news to June 8. A Managua, Nicaragua, correspondent of the Panama Star and Herald gives an extraordinary account of the strained relations between Costa Rica and Nicaragua over the proposed canal, and the probability of war between the two states. It seems that the boundary line between the two states was settled by treaty several years ago, ex-President Cleveland being the arbitrator. Costa Rica professed herself satisfied with President Cleveland's adjustment of the boundary question, and no murmurings were audible at the time, but now that the canal company is actually commencing operations, an outcry is made because some fifty miles of Costa Rica territory will be greatly skirted by the enterprise.

SOUTHERN PACIFIC COAL.

It Will be Mined at Vancouver and Taken Below in Colliers.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—Colonel C. F. Crocker, vice president of the Southern Pacific Company, who has returned from Vancouver, has announced the completion of arrangements for the future coal supply of the entire Southern Pacific system. Henceforth all the coal used here by the railroad will be mined at Vancouver by the company and brought here in their steam colliers.

In speaking of the importance of this change Colonel Crocker says: "My business at Vancouver this trip was almost exclusively looking after the development of our coal mines there. I arranged to supply all of our engines and ships. Since the Mount Diablo coal mine closed down, nearly all the coal used in this state has been imported from Australia and England. The sum that the Southern Pacific Company alone has sent out of the country for coal has been enormous. Hereafter that money will be kept in our own hands."

CALIFORNIA NEWS ITEMS.

The Wrecked Steamer Acme.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—It was learned to-night that A. J. Moissant, principal owner of the steamer Acme, which was wrecked last week near Fort Ross, has great hopes of saving the vessel. He, in company with Captain T. P. H. Whitelaw, the wrecker, has gone to the scene of the wreck.

The Acme is a very strongly built steamer, and it is thought that she will stand the action of the sea for some time, and her owners entertain no doubt that she can be successfully raised from her perilous position and with but little expense be made as good as ever. She was in command of Captain Jensen when she struck. She is valued at $16,000.

The latest reports from Fort Ross, however, are a little at variance with the foregoing. Captain H. L. Reed of the New Zealand Insurance Company, arrived at the scene of the wreck yesterday morning and reports that the Acme is fast breaking up and will be a total loss. Whitelaw's wrecking party is busily engaged in attempting to save the cargo.

A FINE DAYS RACING

Haggin's Salvator Wins the Realization Stakes.

AFTER A MOST TERRIFIC FINISH

Princess Bowling Wins the Big Race at Washington Park in Very Good Time—A Trotting Record Lowered

NEW YORK, July 2.—Under lowering skies and attended by rain at intervals the Sheepshead Bay spring meeting was to-day brought to a close.

The king race of the day and of the meeting was the fourth, or Realization race, in which $10,000 was to be won or lost. Salvator, under McLaughlin, landed the prize in the hands of J. B. Haggin, the owner of the horse. The fact that it was the richest 3-year-old race of this or any other year brought together prominent turfmen from all parts of the country. Among those present were Senator Hearst, D. D. Withers, A. Belmont, Jr., Galway, Mike and Phil Dwyer, Major [illegible], Oden Bowie, Haggin, John Hunter and others.

There was considerable disappointment expressed because Garrison did not ride in the Realization race. He was engaged several days ago to ride Salvator by Mr. Haggin, but as McLaughlin had also been spoken to there was nothing to do but to let him ride, as he had come on from Chicago for that purpose. Then he partly promised to ride Longstreet, but as he could not get down to the required weight (112 pounds) he had to stand down, much to his disgust.

The attendance was a throng so great as to prevent comfort or convenience to itself.

Fourth race, realization stakes, for three year old colts of 1886, sweepstakes by subscriptions, all starters to pay $250 additional, all of which to go to the second and third horses as further provided, the Coney Island Jockey Club to add $10,000, the second horse to receive $2000 of the added money and two thirds of the starting money, and the third $1000 of the added money and one third of the starting money; colts to carry 122 pounds, fillies and geldings 119 pounds; non-winning mare and stallion allowances; mile and five furlongs. Starters: Salvator, Longstreet, Jewel Bar, Long Dance, Fatia, My Fellow, Penny, Philander.

Mutuals paid $14.60 straight and $8.50 for a place, and Penny paid $11.00.

My Fellow, closely followed by Philander, made the running for a mile and a furlong, Salvator and Penny waiting in the rear. Longstreet and Eric remained near the center of the field. Fatia ran with the leaders for half a mile and then retired. Philander dropped back at the end of a mile, and Longstreet took second place, holding it until he swung in on the home stretch, where he seemed to strike a snag, judging from the abrupt way in which he departed for the rear.

The pace was entirely too hot for Eric. He was completely fagged out before rounding up the turn, and Hayward eased him, seeing that he was hopelessly beaten.

Salvator moved up with bewildering speed on the turn, taking the lead at the head of the stretch, with My Fellow at his throat latch, and Penny fighting for the middle of the track.

The favorite hung to the rail so closely that it was not possible for anything to squeeze up beside him, so McLaughlin had only one side to guard. He took no chances, but rode out with the whip and spur all the way down the stretch, Salvator responding nobly to every touch of the whalebone and steel, but even then he narrowly escaped the terrific rush of Penny, who, when Littlefield got him straightened out, came down upon the finish like a thunderbolt.

Ten thousand people thought that Penny had won. A few were of the opinion that Littlefield did not get up, and with these the judges agreed, for Salvator's number was run aloft. Haggin's colt won by the shortest of heads. When Salvator's number went up there was a chorus of hisses, but it was soon drowned by hearty cheers for McLaughlin and the victor.

Salvator first, Penny second, Long Dance third. Time, [illegible].

Following is a summary of all the other races:

Mile—Kingston won in 1:41, [illegible] second, Ovid third.

Three fourths of a mile—Torso won in 1:16, Amoria second, Blackfish third.

Mile and a fourth—Boccaccio won in 2:11, My Own second, First Attempt third.

Mile and a half—[illegible] won in 2:41, [illegible] second.

Mile and three eighths—Cortez won in [illegible], Bella B second, [illegible] third.

WASHINGTON PARK RACES.

The Englewood Stakes Won by Princess Bowling in Very Fast Time.

WASHINGTON PARK, July 2.—The attendance to-day was good. A light rain fell just before the opening, rendering the track a bit slow for a short time, but it soon dried out, permitting the last four races to be run in fast time.

The event of the day was the Englewood stakes for 2 year old fillies, in which Princess Bowling made the fastest record that has yet been scored for the event.

Three fourths of a mile, 2 year olds—Rosemond won, W. G. Morris second; time, 1:16½.

One and one sixteenth of a mile, 3-year olds—Heron won, Teuton second; time, 1:53¾.

Englewood stakes, mile—To a beautiful start Madolin, Brown Princess and Princess Bowling were the first off, necks apart. From the clubhouse out Princess Bowling led and won in a splendidly contested race by a short length in exceedingly fast time; Brandolette second, Retrieve third; time, 1:41¼.

One and one-eighth miles—Famine won, Woodcraft second, Arundel third; time, 1:54¾.

Three-fourths of a mile—Sailor Boy won, Guy Gray second, Lady Gay third; time, 1:15.

Three fourths of a mile—Gunshot won, Champagne Charlie second, Avondale third; time, 1:14½.

MINNEAPOLIS RACES.

The World's Three Year-Old Trotting Record Broken at Minnehaha Park.

MINNEAPOLIS, July 2.—One of the features of the first day's programme at the Minnehaha Driving Park was a trot against time by Axoll to beat the 3-year old world's record, which heretofore was 2:18. The start was made after the conclusion of the regular programme.

After warming the young stallion up for a mile and a half, Williams, the owner and driver, got the word. The first quarter was made in 33 seconds, the half in 1:04, the third quarter in 1:40, and the mile in 2:15½, lowering the record by 2½ seconds. This was trotted in the face of a strong wind and heavy atmosphere.

LEAGUE GAMES.

Pittsburg, Cleveland, New York and Chicago the Winners Yesterday.

PITTSBURG, July 2.—The Phillies started out as though they had determined to win at least one game here. Gleason kept the hits well scattered, and was well supported up to the eighth inning, when the team went to pieces and allowed the home club to score nine runs in the last two innings. Score—Pittsburg, 10; Philadelphia, 3. Base hits—Pittsburg, 12; Philadelphia, 9. Errors—Pittsburg, 5; Philadelphia, 8. Batteries—Pittsburg, Staley and Miller; Philadelphia, Gleason and Clements. Umpire—McQuaid.

CLEVELAND, July 2.—In the ninth inning this afternoon the Washingtons pounded out three runs. With one man out and Wilmot on the third, they delayed the game, and Wilmot stepped off the third base. Tebeau had the ball concealed and touched him. Wilmot attempted to get back and was declared out by the umpire. Carney hit an easy one to short and the game was ended. Score—Cleveland, 5; Washington, 4. Base hits—Cleveland, 11; Washington, 12. Errors—Cleveland, 1; Washington, 9. Umpire—Curry. Batteries—Cleveland, Bakely and Zimmer; Washington, O'Day and Clark.

INDIANAPOLIS, July 2.—The visitors won the game this afternoon by an opportune bunching of hits. Score—Indianapolis, 6; New York, 8. Base hits—Indianapolis, [illegible]; New York, [illegible]. Errors—Indianapolis, [illegible]; New York, 4. Batteries—Indianapolis, Rusie, Burdick, Daly and Myers; New York, Welch and Brown. Umpire—Fessenden.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The home team played an uphill game this afternoon, but by bunching their hits in the sixth and eighth innings, and with Quinn's error and Duffy's hit in the ninth, scored it, winning the third game of the series from Boston. Score—Chicago, 5; Boston, 4. Base hits—Chicago, [illegible]; Boston, 10. Errors—Chicago, 1; Boston, 4. Batteries—Dwyer and Farrell for Chicago, Madden and Kelly for Boston. Umpire—Lynch.

SURRENDERED TO THE ASSOCIATION.

LOUISVILLE, July 2.—President Davidson and the manager of the Louisville baseball club to-day surrendered that organization to the American Association. A meeting will be held here or in some of the Western cities within a few days to see what disposition will be made of the club.

THE FERRY SCANDAL.

Another Statement of the Woman's Side of the Story.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 2.—The divorce suit of Mrs. Evelyn Ferry of Tacoma, against her husband, E. P. Ferry, promises soon to come to trial. A. G. Booth and S. M. Shortridge, who are acting as counsel for Mrs. Ferry in this city, have already filed their complaint asking for a divorce on grounds of extreme cruelty. They have also prepared an affidavit for Mrs. Ferry to sign in substantiation of the charges made in the complaint.

Booth stated to-day that the suit for divorce could not be tried in Paris without mutual consent of both parties in waiving jurisdiction as to a suit in Tacoma. Booth said it was a question of residence, and he thought San Francisco was the legal residence of Ferry.

A number of letters have been received from Paris bearing on the case. Prince De La Rouere writes as follows: "I am a friend to Henry Le Clercq, and by him to Madame Ferry. I tried during all that case to show them my best friendship in helping them by my friends and myself here, and I believe it could be useful for Mrs. Ferry to tell you all I know about this distressing affair and the low and disagreeable plot she has been submitted to. I met Mrs. Ferry, her husband and daughters at the opera for the first time, and was introduced to them there by Henry, who seemed to be on the best terms with everyone in the family. On leaving, M. Ferry himself invited me, in the most amiable terms, to his home, insisted upon receiving me when I answered him I was not very rarely free, and assured me that his excellent Harry's friends should be considered as his own friends, at the same time patting on Harry's shoulder. Very often afterwards I was asked to his house, and finally went there one night, when I was quite astonished not to see Mr. Ferry. I met, however, with Mrs. Ferry and the girls, as well as my friend Harry, who came with me, and knew that Mr. Ferry sent by his servant apologies that night, saying he was ill. As I just told you, I was quite astonished at that ungentlemanly manner of acting, but I supposed it was a fancy of that man, that I judged the first day as rather out of good sense. That was the only night I had stayed with him at the opera. You know what happened after. Mr. Ferry tried to get his wife and her friend on trial for adultery, thinking they were helpless and his wife without [illegible]. We were led in destroying his own plot, and the French justice not only declared Mrs. Ferry and Harry quite free from guilt, but [illegible] Mr. Ferry to give back to his wife her child and her clothes. I consider Mr. Ferry as quite insane and pushed to that by the [illegible] Darnell, who has been twice arrested in Paris as a spy. He is a dangerous man, ready to do anything for a dollar."

THE G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT.

A Request for a One Cent Rate Made of the Central Traffic Association.

CHICAGO, July 2.—The commanders of the G. A. R. departments of Michigan, Indiana, Illinois, Iowa, Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas and Minnesota met in this city to-day for the purpose of further presenting to the general passenger agents of the Central Traffic Association their wishes in reference to the rates to the G. A. R. for the national encampment, as have heretofore been made and as have recently been made to other associations.

A gentleman to-night furnished the Associated Press with a statement in which they say in part: "Having received the same evasive answer which has been made to the repeated requests of the commander-in-chief and the local committee at Milwaukee for a 1 cent rate per mile, and feeling that the G. A. R. is entitled to at least as much consideration as other societies and organizations, and that we should resent this unjust discrimination against the veterans who saved the life of the nation, we hereby insist that the proper railroad officials throughout the United States fix and establish on or before the 10th instant the rate of 1 cent per mile to and from the national encampment at Milwaukee, and in case of a failure so to do within the time specified we hereby declare our determination to carry out by general orders in our respective departments the spirit of the resolution adopted at the twenty second national encampment, as follows:

Resolved, further—That, unless the railroad companies furnish the required relief to the comrades, then the various departments will discourage the attendance of all except the members of the national encampment, and further, that we shall call upon the commander-in-chief to issue a general order requesting only duly accredited representatives of the G. A. R. to attend said encampment."

The number of such representatives is believed to be less than a thousand, while the attendance at the encampment was expected to be many thousands.

IN DEFENSE OF SULLIVAN.

Patrick Ford Comes Out in a Five Column Editorial in the "Irish World."

NEW YORK, July 2.—The next issue of the Irish World will contain an editorial article five columns long signed by Patrick Ford.

Mr. Ford says that he is not a member of the Clan-na-Gael, and adds: "All secret political societies are so many rings operating in the dark to bring under control or influence by indirect methods those who work in the open."

In another section of the editorial Ford declares his predisposition against Alexander Sullivan, but adds that at this hour in his opinion Alexander Sullivan is the victim of grave injustice; that he is entirely innocent of the murder of Dr. Cronin, and that he is utterly incapable of conceiving or suggesting or of [illegible] so horrid a crime.

He adds: "I firmly believe [illegible] of an overwhelming wrong, and I should despise myself were I to sin against my soul by preserving a cowardly silence at this [illegible]."

Ford reviews the case at length and says: "If Alexander Sullivan has [illegible] were hundreds of people who [illegible] to gain by it if they could [illegible] suspicion of the murder upon [illegible]." [illegible] by alleging all Irishmen [illegible].

DAM GONE BY A WATERSPOUT.

It Breaks Over the City of Altoona—The South Fork Viaduct in Danger.

ALTOONA, Pa., July 2.—A water spout broke over this city to-night doing great damage. The rain is pouring down in torrents, overflowing the streets and bursting the sewers.

Reports from the South Fork are to the effect that the great viaduct is in danger, and [illegible] from the West have come in since 6 o'clock.

The Juniata is rising beyond its bounds at [illegible].

The Kittanning Point reservoir of this city's water works is expected to break, as the water is pouring over its banks like a small Niagara. Should it go the city's loss would be $100,000.

Mrs. Nicholson, the wife of a Pennsylvania ticket agent, was struck by lightning and is not expected to recover.

The Pennsylvania agent at Hollidaysburg, A. M. Hell, with his wife and child, were found unconscious in their home from the effects of a stroke of lightning.

ANXIOUS TO WITNESS THE FIGHT.

Mitchell's Father-in-Law Comes Over From England to See the Sullivan-Kilrain Mill.

NEW YORK, July 2.—Pony Moore, father in law of Charley Mitchell, the pugilist, arrived from England Sunday. He said that he came over solely to see the Kilrain-Sullivan fight, but that while he was here he would like to get a match between Dempsey and Mitchell. Moore is said to have brought with him $1,000, the whole of which he proposes to place on Kilrain at suitable odds.

The betting on the fight in this city is dull, chiefly because the Kilrain men want more odds than the Sullivan men are willing to give.

The ruling rate is $100 to $60, and Arthur Lumley of the Illustrated News has sent $5000 to New Orleans, to be placed there on as even terms as possible.

THE BURKE EXTRADITION CASE.

The Winnipeg Prisoner Fighting Hard Against Returning to Chicago.

WINNIPEG, July 2.—The extradition case of Martin Burke, for complicity in the Cronin murder, was resumed this morning. The time up to the 1 o'clock adjournment was taken up in fighting on technical objections made by Burke's counsel, all of which were overruled. The hearing will be resumed this afternoon.

A stormy session was consumed in the hearing of the Chicago witnesses, a number of whom were examined, giving much the same testimony as in Chicago.

Martinsen, the expressman, testified as to his identification of Burke, and in great detail regarding the moving of furniture to the Carlson cottage for Burke.

The case will be continued to-morrow.

FIRE AT CARSON.

The Total Loss About Twenty five Thousand Dollars.

CARSON, Nev., July 2.—Early this morning fire was discovered in the rear of the Corbett house restaurant, and the block, being composed of frame buildings, the flames spread rapidly, destroying almost the entire block. The principal loser is Mrs. Don G. Corbett, whose loss on buildings will reach $10,000; insurance, $4000. Loss on restaurant fixtures, $[illegible].

D. Greer, livery stable keeper, lost about $[illegible] in hay, grain, etc.

Mr. Grossman, dry goods and notions, lost $[illegible].

There were a number of other smaller losses, aggregating $1,000. The total loss will probably reach $25,000. The fire is supposed to have been started by a tramp.

MACKIN PARDONED.

Gov. Fifer Says the Application of His Friends Was Very Strong.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 2.—Governor Fifer this morning pardoned Joseph C. Mackin of Chicago, serving sentence for offenses against the ballot. His was one of the most notorious pieces of political fine work in the history of Chicago. The governor reviewed the case, stating that the application for pardon had been stronger than ever before presented to the governor.

A letter from Caracas, Venezuela, dated June 10, says: "Recent events in Caracas go to prove that the hostility of the people to the continued dictatorship of Guzman Blanco is just as violent and the repudiation of his authority by the government just as complete as during the exciting scenes described in my last letter. In fact, the communications that have passed between this city and Paris have done as much as the transactions here to widen the breach."

JOHN L. IN CINCINNATI

He Will Resume His Southern Journey To-day.

HOW HE TRAVELS IN HIS CAR

In New Orleans It Is Not Thought That the Authorities Will Interfere—Opinion of Sports and Others

CINCINNATI, July 2.—John L. Sullivan and party arrived in this city this afternoon.

Among the sporting fraternity of this city the opinion is almost equally divided as to the respective merits of Kilrain and Sullivan, and many are of opinion that the affair will be no genuine fight.

There is very little betting here because a number of Sullivan's friends are afraid to back him on account of his broken arm. They say, however, that Kilrain will not stand up against him for six rounds unless his broken arm should fail him.

On the other hand Kilrain's friends have faith [illegible] Sullivan, provided the fight is not a hippodrome.

A large number of men from this city will leave town on the same train with Sullivan to-morrow, when he expects to leave.

John certainly looks well, a hundred per cent better than when he was here a month ago. There is not a particle of superfluous flesh about him. His general appearance indicates that he is in the best of health, and the chances seem strongly in his favor.

John himself is confident of victory if the fight is fairly conducted, and it is evident that he will make it a hard fight for his opponent.

When he came out of the gymnasium at about 7:40 this evening, after spending nearly three hours there in exercise, he immediately entered a closed carriage and, accompanied only by his trainer Muldoon, was driven to the hotel.

Sullivan's special car, in which he travels, is furnished with a view to the convenience and comforts of its occupant. A bath tub with a shower bath attachment occupies almost the whole side of the car. A striking bag hangs suspended from the ceiling, and about the room are scattered dumb bells and other paraphernalia.

Frank Johnson, sporting editor of the Cincinnati Commercial Gazette, who spent some time with Sullivan at his training grounds about ten days ago, and who will accompany him in the morning, says that their special train will leave at 7 o'clock to-morrow morning for New Orleans.

Late this evening there was a little disposition to increase the betting, although the odds offered in his favor are very much greater.

AT NEW ORLEANS.

It is Not Thought That the Fight Will Be Stopped by the Authorities.

NEW ORLEANS, July 2.—This has been a dull day in prize fighting circles. All are quietly awaiting the coming of the principals.

The proclamation of Governor Lowry will not interrupt the progress of the arrangements for the prize fight.

Telegrams continue to come in, and indicate that visitors may be expected from all parts of the country.

Barnett says that Sullivan will probably arrive to-morrow and will go to the Spanish fort on Friday. Stevenson does not look for Kilrain here until Saturday, although he may arrive Friday evening.

The battle ground has been definitely settled upon and no interference is anticipated.

RESULT OF A POSTAL CARD CANVASS.

NEW YORK, July 2.—The World this evening prints the result of a postal card canvass of the probable issue of the Sullivan-Kilrain battle. There were [illegible] of which [illegible] were in favor of Sullivan and thirty four for Kilrain. Eight believed it would be a draw and four say a fizzle.

TRYING TO PREVENT THE FIGHT.

MOBILE, Ala., July 2.—Sheriff Holcombe this morning received a telegram from Governor Gay directing him not to allow the Sullivan-Kilrain prize fight to take place in Mobile county.

A Land Decision Affirmed.

WASHINGTON, July 2.—The assistant secretary has affirmed the decision of the general land commissioner in the case of Joseph W. [illegible] versus Frank M. Alfred, in which the latter had appealed from the commissioner's ruling holding for cancellation his desert land entry for a tract in section 4, township 3 south, range 40 east, in the La Grande district, Oregon. The decision was that Alfred had not complied with the law in conducting water upon the land in a sufficient quantity to produce an agricultural crop prior to making his final proof, and that it has not since been properly irrigated.

It has been but two years on the first day of July since Drs. The reputation of the doctors as successful practitioners, their hundreds of wonderful permanent cures of diseases that had baffled medical skill for years, their novel and unique scientific treatment, is so extensive that there is scarcely a town or village in the great Northwest but can point to patients who have been almost snatched by them from the grave and restored to health, principally by electric treatment.

News Notes and Happenings in Portland's Thriving Suburb

Meeting of the East Portland City Dads—The Police Question a Bone of Contention—Trouble Over a Street Grade

Owing to the mayor's message and other important matters in the council Monday night, only a short mention could be made of the various measures acted upon. There were several matters of interest that provoked considerable discussion.

At a meeting several weeks ago the council appointed Officer Jackson a regular policeman for the Fourth ward. There was no question but what a regular policeman was needed in that ward and, as the city is receiving $1500 a year revenue from the four saloons in that part of the city, it was not considered unjust to pay the salary of a regular.

It was considered by a few that the appointment had been made hastily. Councilman [illegible] insists that it was expedited and that he was not permitted to address the council when the motion to confirm Jackson's appointment was pending. In short he insists that the gag was forced on him. The sequel of the [illegible] now follows. There has been a strong and repeated effort made to secure the appointment of a regular policeman for the First ward, and last Friday the health and police committee appointed Frank Harvey, subject to the confirmation of the common council. Mayor Stewart would not sign the warrant for Harvey's portion of a month until the city council confirmed his appointment. The question was raised under what authority Harvey had been furnished a policeman's badge and put on duty before his appointment had been confirmed.

Marshal Morgan stated that he had acted under instructions from the health and police committee. Councilman Jerry, who was a member of the committee on health and police in the former council, and who made the appointment, arose and moved that the appointment of Mr Harvey be referred to the new committee as a matter of fairness and justice to all parties. Mr [illegible] stated that Jackson's appointment had been expedited and that it should also be referred to the new health and police committee along with that of Mr Harvey. An amendment was made referring both appointments back to the health and police committee.

The difference between the situation of the two men is that Jackson's appointment was confirmed some time ago but Harvey's appointment is not. Harvey has refused to go on duty since Monday night, as he does not care to take chances of getting his pay. And so the matter is now in the hands of the new health and police committee.

FIFTH STREET.

The situation concerning this street becomes more complicated every meeting, and the number of petitions and remonstrances concerning the grades that have been before the council in the past, and the number that may come in the future is simply appalling. There seems no immediate prospect for a settlement of the grades, so that the street can be graveled and its improvement completed. Two weeks ago the council by vote agreed to make the change of grades asked. The recorder was instructed to give notice of this change by publication in the official paper and this notice is still running.

It was supposed that the matter was permanently downed, but Monday another [illegible] strange came to light. Judge Woodward, while the remonstrance was pending disposition, addressed the council. He said the petition asking for the change certainly contained the names of a majority of the property owners most interested and that the map which accompanied the petition showed this fact.

The objection to the change of grade is that the property owners have graded the street and put down the sidewalks once and do not wish to go to the extra expense to [illegible] to the change of grades.

Judge Woodward stated that the cost would not be very great. It was stated that a grade of over fourteen feet near Sullivan's slough must come down sooner or later. South of the slough at Taggart street there is a depression while immediately south of this street the grade becomes steep again. It is now proposed to cut down the hill immediately north of the bridge, fill the slight depression at Taggart, and reduce the grade immediately south.

The whole matter is in the hands of the street committee and it is expected that some kind of an understanding will soon be reached.

AROUND THE PARK.

The Oregon Real Estate Company have already taken steps to improve the street around the [illegible] Park. The city will be called on to provide for the improvement of a portion of the street, and when it is completed the park will be an attractive and pleasant resort.

SEWERAGE QUESTION.

The major has already [illegible] establishing a good [illegible] suggested [illegible] gineer [illegible] general plan [illegible] need [illegible] down a section [illegible]

FRIGHTFUL FALL.

Yesterday morning Robert McMonies fell from the second floor of the harness store of his brother through an elevator shaft and was very severely injured. W H McMonies recently moved his store to the building formerly occupied by Sharkey & Son. This building has an elevator from about the middle to convey material to the second floor but evidently it was rather insecure. Robert McMonies went to the second floor for some purpose and had occasion to step on the elevator which was about three feet above the floor. The rope by which the elevator is raised and lowered was slack, the elevator being held in place by something else. As soon as Mr McMonies got on the elevator it gave way and shot down through the opening like a flash, carrying him with it. Mr McMonies fell with his head and shoulders off the elevator and struck on his right shoulder, and near the back of his head. The blood streamed from his ear and he lay in an unconscious condition for several minutes. It was found that no bones had been broken. He was removed to his father's residence and last evening he was resting easy.

CHANGE IN SERVICES.

The prayer meeting of the Presbyterian church will be held this evening, instead of Thursday as was announced. This change is made in view of the fact that many persons will attend the Fourth of July exercises.

WILL COMMENCE WORK.

The masons will commence laying the foundation for the boot and shoe factory to be erected at Sunnyside, provided water is obtained in the well that is being dug. A large amount of material is already on the ground for the building.

GONE ON A VACATION.

A M Llewellyn, city recorder, who obtained leave of absence for one month, left for Yamhill last evening. During his absence his place will be filled by Justice Mayo, who will also have the justice's office in the city hall for the time.

A DISGRACE TO THE POLICE.

At a meeting of the official members of the First M E church in Portland, Oregon, held July 1 1889, the following was adopted:

Resolved, In our opinion that under the existing laws of this state it is a disgrace to the police department that they permit almost entire [illegible] houses of ill fame to exist for months and years unmolested, if not protected, in the center of our city.

Resolved, That we fully approve the persevering efforts of THE OREGONIAN in exposing the inefficient and corrupt police system of our city and we trust said paper will continue its commendable efforts until a radical change is effected.

THE RAILROAD COMMISSION CASE.

On Monday Colonel N E Knight, attorney for W H Biggs, the railroad commissioner appointed by Governor Pennoyer, appeared before the supreme court at Salem and filed the following motion for re-hearing the railroad commission case:

In the supreme court of the state of Oregon, W H Biggs, railroad commissioner of the state of Oregon, appellant, vs George W McBride, secretary of state of the state of Oregon, respondent.

Now at this day comes the appellant by his attorneys and moves the court for a rehearing upon the second proposition of his contention: "That the legislature of this state had no constitutional power to elect railroad commissioners under the act of February [illegible] 1889. That that power belonged to the executive department of the government."

We have been prompted to make this application by the following language which the court used in its decision of this case: "Now if it could be shown that the power to appoint all officers which are not expressly made elective by the people, is part of the chief executive power of this state the appellant's contention would be sustained. But no authority whatever has been cited to sustain this view, nor is it believed that any exists."

This language leads us to infer that the court either overlooked or misunderstood the authorities we cited in support of the proposition that the legislature of this state in creating new offices has no constitutional right to fill them.

In support of that proposition, we cited in our brief the following provisions of our constitution: § 1 article 3, § 1, article 6, § 16, article [illegible] and also the following authorities: 3 J J Marshall 404, 5 Ohio St 528, 560; Thomas Jefferson's letter to Samuel Kercheval; Evansville vs State, volume 21, N E R 267.

This last case was very recently decided by the supreme court of Indiana.

The provisions of the Indiana constitution are identical with our own, as above cited, and this very question of executive power and right under the constitution for which we are seriously and earnestly contending arose out of an attempt of the democratic legislature of that state to strip the republican governor of his constitutional right of appointment to office, but which he had the manhood to resist and a democratic court had the courage to sustain him. We quote from their decision:

"The power to appoint to office is not a legislative function, but belongs to the executive department.

"The legislature may provide by law for the appointment of all officers not provided for in the constitution, but the appointing power must be lodged somewhere within the executive department.

"The legislature of Indiana has no power to fill a vacancy occurring in an office, whether of its own creation or otherwise, except as express provision can be found therefor in the constitution."

These authorities show beyond question that the power to appoint to office belongs to the executive department of the government, and that the legislature cannot elect any officer of this state unless expressly authorized so to do by the constitution.

The office of railroad commissioner is unknown to the constitution and while the legislature had the power to create the office, it had no power to fill it.

The power belonged to the people or to the governor. For the reasons above stated and as this is a new and important question seriously affecting a coordinate department of the state government we earnestly request a rehearing of the same.

ALBINA NEWS BUDGET.

Meeting of the City Council—New Business District—A Barbershop Robbed—Other Notes

The city council convened at the usual hour, Mayor McLauchlan in the chair. All the members were present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. The council then adjourned sine die.

The new council then held their meeting and the new officers elect took their seats. Mayor McLauchlan was [illegible] chair.

The new officers were: Mayor, D M McLauchlan; [illegible] Knox, [illegible] Craig, [illegible] Bennett and [illegible] M. R. [illegible] man, councilmen. The minutes were read and approved.

The mayor stated that as a vacancy was caused by a failure to elect a councilman in the Third ward, named James B. Mooney councilman for two years. Hugo E Kraft was named as councilman for one year from the Second ward.

Ex-Judge Caples of Portland then addressed the council at considerable length on the subject of the election in ward No 2 and wished to have the minutes to show that he had entered a protest to the filling of the vacancies.

On motion by Craig and seconded by Knox the council adjourned.

PROGRESS IN BUSINESS CIRCLES.

A new grocery store has been opened on Russell street and near Williams avenue. This neighborhood is getting to be quite a business center, and has nearly as many places of business as lower Albina, although the growth has been within the last year. Some five years ago there was nothing in this vicinity but brush, stumps and forest, with only a foot path through the [illegible]. Not a street was laid out and no way of traveling except by the old county and the Vancouver roads. This is now all changed. The streets are nearly all graded and sidewalked and many of them are planked, besides having a great many elegant residences built on all sides that enhances the beauty and value of surrounding property.

REGARDING RIVER BATHING.

Every evening squads of boys, both little and big, hie away to the river to swim. It will be an untold blessing to the anxious mother when the proposed swimming bath house in Portland is completed. She will then know if her young hopeful is drowned that she can be sure of finding his body. It is astonishing that so few boys are drowned, who will dive under and around logs near the sawmill in all kinds of weather.

SURVEY BEING COMPLETED.

A survey is being prepared for the extension of Goldsmith street near Mitchell. This street will run across the lower end of the front yard of Captain W. H. [illegible]'s residence property and across the Montgomery slough to Third street, Irving's addition. As soon as the survey is made bids will be advertised for the building of the bridge across the slough. This is on the line of the Willamette Electric Railway company.

BARBER SHOP BURGLARIZED.

The barber shop of [illegible] & Hill was burglarized last Thursday night. The thieves broke in through a back window which was not properly secured. They took away thirty five razors, three hair shears and three hones, valued at $15. [illegible]

[illegible]

[illegible] from Mr [illegible] at present [illegible] Portland and [illegible] has his hands full [illegible] back [illegible] after his [illegible] become an Albinian and make his future home here.

ELOCUTIONARY READINGS.

Miss [illegible], a talented artist, will give elocutionary readings this evening at Smithson's hall. The entertainment will be interspersed with music and singing by the local talent. Half of the proceeds of the evening will be donated to the Ladies' Union Relief society. After the entertainment the floor will be cleared and all who wish can enjoy a social dance.

ELECTION OF OFFICERS.

The Knights and Ladies of Honor at their last meeting elected the following officers for the ensuing term: Protector, [illegible]; vice protector, Mrs B Orton; secretary, Alex M Young; financial secretary, John Cohen; treasurer, R. [illegible]; [illegible] Simpkins, deputy supreme protector, Mrs K. Young.

CHANGED INTO A BUSINESS HOUSE.

[illegible] & Smith have had one of their cottages on Goldsmith street changed into a business house by taking out the partitions and putting in a glass front.

PERSONAL AND GENERAL NOTES.

Mr A B Manley has gone on a business trip to Tacoma.

Mrs H J Darling has moved into her new residence on Sellwood street.

Mrs. Eva Cline will take a vacation for a couple of months. She goes to the seaside to recuperate.

The Baptist Mission Sabbath school held their excursion to Mount Tabor yesterday and report having a very pleasant time.

The Albina board of school directors will meet next Saturday evening. The contract for building the addition to the Albina school house will be awarded then.

The little five year old daughter of Mr and Mrs Schroeder, living in the Multnomah addition, fell and broke her left arm last evening while playing in the barn. The doctor was sent for and the arm properly dressed.

There has been considerable dissatisfaction with the result of the vote in the election of councilmen in the Second and Third wards. The mayor and council saw fit to appoint out of the persons receiving an equal number of votes in each ward. The parties who were left out feel aggrieved and will contest the right.

HILSBORO NOTES.

HILSBORO, July 2.—Preparations for the Fourth are being rapidly completed. There are fourteen animals awaiting the preliminary operation of being slaughtered previous to being "barbecued." The celebration is free to all, and all well conducted citizens from everywhere are welcomed to assist in the festival and enjoy the day. Numerous prizes are to be awarded in the course of the afternoon to successful winners of races and games.

We have had no circus this year but we had a good substitute for one last Saturday when several dozen bunchgrass horses were sold by auction and subjected to the halter after being lassoed. One mare got her leg broken.

Our business men and wide awake citizens generally are discussing the desirability of having the proposed railway from Astoria to terminate in Hillsboro, thus forming the westerly branch of the O & C R R. It is well known that no town along the line exhibits at present such enterprise and life as Hilsboro. Certainly a junction at this place would enable the new road to capture a large amount of grain trade.

PERSONAL.

I. H. Hall, a Tacoma capitalist, is at the Esmond.

Samuel Case, one of the prominent men of Newport, is in the city.

J. F. [illegible], one of the big real estate dealers of Seattle, is paying Portland a hasty visit.

Mrs Dr Weatherford has gone to Hillsdale to camp with her daughter Mrs David Steel during the heated term.

Her Relationship to Him

Chicago Tribune

You have said enough to consign me to misery, Miss Oldgirl, exclaimed the young man bitterly, as he looked about for his hat. "Please remember before you add anything for the purpose of softening the blow, that I have nine sisters already."

"Then I will be an aunt to you, George," said the mature young lady softly to her youthful adorer.

What Brandreth's Pills Do

In BRANDRETH'S PILLS the [illegible] medicine has been [illegible] composed as they are of numerous vegetables so combined that each multiplies the virtues of the rest. They never can do any harm. Their action is always the same, no matter how long or in what doses they are taken. They purge away the waste particles of the system. They recruit the animal vigor and arrest the progress of decay. They purify the blood. They stimulate the liver. They invigorate digestion. They open the pores. They make the bowels do the work of the kidneys thus giving those organs an oftimes needed rest. One or two at night for a week will demonstrate their power and is generally sufficient to cure ordinary diseases.

MR. WM. H. MILLS EXPLAINS.

He Was Not Fully Reported by the San Francisco Press,

He Is Really Charmed With Oregon and Thinks the Yamhill Country the Finest on the Coast

On June 23 THE OREGONIAN reprinted an interview had by a San Francisco paper with Mr William H Mills, general land agent of the Southern Pacific railroad and vice president of the California State Board of Trade. The sentiments expressed by Mr Mills were the subject of editorial comment in this journal on June 25. The secretary of the Oregon immigration board thereupon wrote Mr Mills in relation to this subject. The secretary's letter, together with Mr Mills's reply thereto are herewith appended. The subheads are ours:

PORTLAND, Or, June [illegible] 1889.

William H Mills, Esq, General Land Agent Central Pacific Railroad, San Francisco, Cal: [illegible] I am in receipt of your favor of [illegible] California State Board of Trade. I will be very glad to receive these reports and to study them carefully in the interest of the work in which I am engaged. I thank you for your courtesy in remembering my request.

I have read your interview [illegible] published in the San Francisco [illegible] and has been republished by THE OREGONIAN [illegible] and has been the cause of editorial comment [illegible] that paper. I believe, generally speaking, that you wish Oregon well, but I am [illegible] that while you [illegible] love Oregon you [illegible] California much more [illegible] and that your love for California has blinded you to the charms of her fair sister Oregon. However, we certainly thank you for the kind words you have uttered concerning our state, especially for the kind words about Portland.

I trust that the [illegible] will fulfill the fondest expectations of both California and Oregon [illegible] as to material prosperity and the happiness of their citizens is a [illegible] concern. Yours truly,

WALLACE R. STRUBLE,
Secretary.

MR. MILLS'S REPLY.

SAN FRANCISCO, June [illegible] 1889.

Wallace R. Struble, Esq, Secretary of the Oregon Immigration Board, Portland, Or.—Dear Sir: I have your esteemed favor of the [illegible], enclosing editorial comment upon an interview reported to have been had with me by a San Francisco paper.

I am pleased with the amiable temper of the editorial referred to, and in replying would remember that if the interview had been given in fully in the San Francisco paper there would have been much less occasion for criticism by the Oregon press. I do not say that the paper interviewing me here published anything that I did not say, but I can with great candor say that it did not publish all that I did say, and much of that which was left out, would have given a very different complexion to the whole work. For illustration, the remark that Oregon was growing apples and that we would do well to buy them of Oregon, was a very subordinate remark. The interviewer who is one of the best in the profession took brief notes of the conversation and wrote up chiefly from memory. He would catch here and there an exact expression, but my views on my trip were given in a conversational way and while in a sense there is no misrepresentation there was, by reason of omission, the absence of accurate representation.

INTERESTED IN OREGON, TOO.

You say that you believe, generally speaking, that I wish Oregon well. I am firmly convinced that we are just as much interested in the growth of Oregon as we are of any county in California or of any section in California, and that Oregon is quite as much interested in the growth of California as it could be in any part of its own territory, in short I do not admit for a moment that there is or can be either rivalry or antagonism in the growth of wealth, population and prosperity between different sections of the Pacific coast. It would be vastly better for California to day if 10,000,000 people resided in Oregon and it would be vastly better for Oregon if an equal number resided in California. These are things that I have advocated and contended for so often and upon so many different occasions that I feel slightly aggrieved that any other construction should have been put upon any expression of mine under any circumstance.

YAMHILL IS ALL RIGHT.

I can see a most brilliant future for Oregon and Washington territory. I have seen nowhere on the Pacific coast a country so inviting or pleasing as the Yamhill country of your state. My visit there haunts my memory yet as the strains of sweet music will often haunt the dreams of a night. That region of your state in my opinion presents to the intelligent visitor the most charming expression of thrift, comfort and even opulence of any part of the Pacific coast that I have yet visited. What has been done in Yamhill county can be done throughout the foothill and valley land of our state.

I am far from believing that apples are the only fruit product of your state. I do believe, however, that facilities for transportation [illegible] of [illegible] and the [illegible] of each other [illegible] and coming era of rapid transit [illegible] and [illegible] to grow [illegible] the climate and [illegible] adapted to the growth, that the [illegible] subscribed by [illegible] the soil of any country to the products most favored by nature.

This is just as true in the question of exchange between Oregon and California as Canada and Cuba or between England and India.

INTERCHANGEABLE PRODUCTS.

No man has a real reason for jealousy of the prosperity or wealth of his neighbor. Therefore every man is producing something useful as a part of the value of his own product goes in the purchasing power of his neighbor. This is equally true of states and communities. The most advantageous exchange between countries, and hence the most advantageous commercial relation must exist between those occupying the [illegible] northerly and southerly relations. On the parallels of latitude climatic conditions are analogous and hence production is analogous. But along the meridians of longitude contrasts exist between southern and northern climates, hence the productions and the industries possess an economic supplemental relation. Every community should rejoice in the purchasing power of every other community in commercial relation with it.

Beyond this, it gives me pleasure to note the success of countries in the development of their resources depends on the intelligence, energy and enterprise of the populations occupying the country. The most fertile countries under the sun remain sterile under the domination of sloth and ignorance, while the most sterile countries come to present the most fertile aspect when occupied by a population possessing industry, intelligence and energy.

NO FLIES ON PORTLAND.

I think no impartial visitor to your state could fail to note the substantial enterprise of the city of Portland and the thrift and energy of her people, or fail to mark with his gratification the evidence of an incoming tide of wealth and prosperity to the whole Northwest.

I join with you, therefore, most heartily in your patriotic trust that the future will fulfill the fondest expectations of both California and Oregon, and beg leave to remain, your most obedient servant.

WM H MILLS

At the evening session Mr J Brezley, a member of the Baptist church, was invited to be a corresponding member.

Hon F A McDonald delivered a short address on "The Christian College the Strength and Stay of the Churches." In this he paid a glowing tribute to his alma mater, Illinois college, referring particularly to its first president, Rev Edward Beecher, and Professor J B Turner, the present president, who a number of years ago was connected with Pacific university, at Forest Grove.

Following this a warm hearted address of welcome was given by President J F Ellis to Rev [illegible] Clapp, the newly appointed president of [illegible] Missions for Oregon, who responded in an appropriate manner.

THIRD DAY MORNING SESSION.

The devotional meeting was led by Dr Watt. The moderator, Rev [illegible] Clapp, having been suddenly called to Portland by the death of Mrs [illegible] Arnold, a member of his church, Rev G [illegible] was chosen moderator for the remainder of the annual meeting.

At this point a brief paper on "Congregational Esprit de Corps" prepared by Charles L Fay of Portland was read by Geo H Himes.

J. R. Cameron Files a Complaint Against Peter Grant and Constable Welch, of Astoria—Other Court Notes

Mr J R Cameron yesterday filed complaints in the United States circuit court against Peter Grant and Constable Welch of Astoria, charging them with enticing two seamen—Henry Gresford and George Richie to desert from the British bark Dunraven. Warrants were issued for the arrest of these persons and they will probably be brought up here to-day. The circumstances connected with taking the men from the ship are given by the Telegram as follows:

On the 10th of last May the British bark Earl of Dunraven, Captain Foreman master, made ready at Astoria to sail for England. Kelley had taken the two sailors Richie and Gresford aboard receiving for them the sum of $40 each. These men were taken from Portland while they are usually procured at Astoria. About ten minutes before the vessel was ready to sail for Sand Island, Pete Grant and Constable Welch, of Astoria boarded her and told the men they were wanted ashore. The men thinking they must do so, went off the vessel and were hustled up town with the information that they were under arrest. Grant then went out in a boat to Sand Island where the vessel lay and offered to let the men go for $100 each. Captain Foreman refused to pay any such an amount and sailed away without them.

[illegible] DOCKET [illegible]

The following cases were disposed of in the police court yesterday afternoon: Thomas Con[illegible], drunk, $5; Jim Sullivan and Dan Cooke, drunk, $5 each; J W Bailey, charged with permitting stock to run at large, forfeited $5 bail.

J N Davis, a timber claim agent, was arraigned on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses, and pleading not guilty he will have an examination this afternoon.

The complainant, George F Baker, alleges that he advanced the defendant $100 on condition that he was to be located on a satisfactory timber claim. The two went out to look for the land but failing to meet [illegible] expectations they returned to Portland. Baker charges Davis with refusing to refund the money.

Davis on the other hand says that he never got any money from Baker and that the letter is [illegible] nothing more than the expense of the trip.

NEW SUITS.

[illegible] Fulton and others began an action in the circuit court yesterday against F J Jeffery et al to recover $1111 damages. The plaintiffs claim that in May 1888 one [illegible] Patton negotiated with the defendants for the purchase of 76,000 brick at the rate of $7.50 per 1000, for which Patton paid. Patton assigned his contract to the plaintiffs. The defendants are accused of being unwilling to carry out their agreement. And in view of the enhanced market value of brick, Fulton and his partners allege that they have been damaged in the sum asked for.

In the same court Walter Young commenced action against Mrs M Foster, proprietress of the Turkish baths on Third and Mill streets to recover $18.50 alleged to be due him.

ATTACHMENT SUITS.

Joseph Taylor, a saloon keeper, was sued in Justice Phelan's court yesterday by G Cohn & Co for $169 due the firm for liquors sold and delivered to the defendant.

In the same court Frank Botefuhr & Co have sued Alexander Lewis, who keeps the old Gerdes saloon on First street between D and C, on notes and open accounts aggregating $400. It is alleged that Lewis on learning that he was to be sued gathered up all the money in sight and skipped to Seattle on Monday night.

MRS. ELLEN MARIA RILEY'S WILL.

The will of the late Mrs Ellen Maria Riley was filed with County Clerk Powell yesterday. After providing for the payment of all just debts, she bequeaths her gold watch, chain and earrings to her niece, Ellen Clark, $1000 to her brother, Daniel Hurly, and the residue of her property, consisting of a block of land in East Portland and collaterals to her husband, Martin Riley.

ABUSING MISINFORMATION.

The New York Herald issues an edition in London. English newspapers have been noted for ludicrous blunders in dealing with American affairs, but it was supposed that the London New York Herald would set a better example. Never the less we have rarely seen in any European newspaper a tissue of more ludicrous blunders than is found in the London New York Herald's statements about Seattle. After printing an account of the Seattle fire that paper offered the following batch of amusing misinformation:

The town of Seattle, in Washington territory, is only of recent growth, to all intents and purposes it is a mushroom town. It has always regarded itself as a sort of rival of the town of Tacoma, which is about twenty miles away, though it unmistakably plays second fiddle to its neighbor. At one time there was considerable rivalry between Tacoma and Seattle. The residents in both were busily engaged in booming their respective towns and sending broadcast glowing descriptions thereof for the attraction of the dweller in the eastern end of the continent and the transfer of his dollars. But in this race Seattle was ignominiously beaten. The Northern Pacific railroad was coming on apace. Tacoma was bought up entire—the whole township—for about £7000 by Mr Billings, of Philadelphia, one of the magnates of the railway company, and a few friends. Tacoma was made the terminus of the line, and a branch line was made to Seattle.

MAINLY BUILT OF WOOD.

The town that has just been destroyed was thus left utterly in the cold. Its population was about 12,000. Most of its buildings, private commercial and public were built of wood and naturally were only so much material for the fire. It had an opera house, public halls and several places of worship, and a few of these were constructed of brick.

Seattle occupied the unenviable position of being a seaport town without any anchorage. It did some business in fitting the boats for the San Juan fisheries and was a center for the adjacent country, whence the farmers could go instead of Tacoma. The town has been in existence since the United States acquired Alaska and it had a big boom when Henry Villard drove the golden spike at Walla Walla, the last spike of the Northern Pacific. [illegible] vessels called there en route to San Francisco or traveling between the Golden Gate and British Columbia.

PORTLAND, WEDNESDAY, JULY 3.

THE COMMISSION CASE.

The railroad commission case is not yet out of court. On Monday a motion for a rehearing of the case was made before the supreme court and overruled, the court intimating, however, that its opinion as previously rendered was only to be considered as binding on that point which dealt with the matter of the proper proceeding on which to commence action to try title to an office. The proceeding had was by writ of mandamus; and now, as we are informed, a proceeding will be commenced by writ of quo warranto, by the board of commissioners appointed by the governor.

The court, it is understood, overruled the motion for a rehearing on the ground that the case was not before it on a proper proceeding—it having been brought by writ of mandamus to obtain salary, instead of by writ of quo warranto, to try title to an office; and intimated that its decision as to the proper proceeding to be had in such case was really the only point decided.

Of course, the new proceeding is inspired and urged by the governor, who regards it as a sacred and bounden duty to "defend the prerogative of the executive office;" and we are told that he will fill out his commission by the appointment of a third commissioner to sit with Messrs. Biggs and Knight and will again contest the case.

The governor, as we learn, stands mainly on certain decisions rendered recently by the supreme court of Indiana in analogous cases. He thinks those decisions should be binding in Oregon and elsewhere under the doctrine laid down by Chancellor Kent to the effect that a decision upon a point of law arising in any given case in any one state becomes an authority in all our states under a like case, because it is the highest evidence which we can have of the law applicable to the subject, and the judges are bound to follow that decision so long as it stands unreversed, unless it can be shown that the law was misunderstood or misapplied in that particular case. Governor Pennoyer, it is said, holds that under this doctrine the supreme court of Oregon will be compelled to follow the Indiana decisions, which are adverse to the doctrine that a legislature can both enact a law creating offices and appoint officers to fill them.

All this seems to us to go rather violently against the governor's own principles. As a stickler for state autonomy we should think it would irk him to see the state of Oregon ruled by court decisions of the state of Indiana; and it seems much worse when we recall the fact that the governor is on record as a protester and denier of the right of the courts to pass upon the constitutionality of legislative enactments. In his message of January, 1887, Governor Pennoyer said: "The courts have assumed that the question as to whether a statute was constitutional or not is a judicial question. That is very clearly a mistake. It is a legislative question." Well, then, if it is a legislative question, the governor has no case in the matter now under consideration, since the legislature has enacted the law and elected the commissioners, and that should end it. But the governor does not allow now that the question as to the constitutionality of a law is a legislative question, or a question for the legislature. He takes it upon himself to question the authority of the legislature; he denies that a statute is constitutional; and, not content with this, he appeals to the supreme court of the state, which he has expressly told us has no right to meddle with such things, to sustain him. And, for a climax, he insists that the supreme court of Oregon shall be governed in its decision by the supreme court of Indiana. It strikes us that the governor is rather unkind to his own principles. But, then, "the case being altered, why that alters the case."

But of course the facility of his excellency in boxing the compass on this subject will not be a controlling factor in the opinion of the supreme court, which now will hear arguments under a writ of quo warranto—since it seems to be held that the former decision was only as to the proper proceeding to be had in such a case. We should not assume, therefore, that the case has really been decided by the opinion formerly rendered, since a court does not always hold itself bound to regard the expressions of opinion uttered by it on other points as precedents binding upon itself on an issue properly presented.

A NETTLESOME FRIEND.

Horace Greeley, a man greatly respected and admired by Lincoln, was the most vigorous and mischievous critic of his administration and his conduct in the celebrated "Niagara Falls Peace Conference," was particularly provoking. Greeley was fooled to the top of his bent by "Colorado" Jewett, who believed or pretended to believe that an embassy, duly accredited from Richmond as bearer of propositions for peace, was on the Canada side waiting for permission to visit Washington and confer with Lincoln. As a matter of fact, Jewett was a notorious crank and Greeley knew it, and the so-called Confederate commissioners were clothed with no authority to submit conditions of peace. The only reasonable solution of Greeley's extraordinary conduct is found in the fact that he hated war and its works with so much intensity that he grasped, as a drowning man would for a straw, at the effigy of peace that Jewett and Sanders made dance before him at Niagara Falls. So intensely repulsive was war to Greeley that before the firing on Sumter he declared that while secession was wrong, nevertheless, it was better to let the South go than to try to pin her to the Union with bayonets. Among other things, he wrote Lincoln as follows:

> I venture to remind you that our bleeding, bankrupt, almost dying country also longs for peace; shudders at the prospect of fresh conscriptions, of further wholesale devastations, and of new rivers of human blood. I know that nine-tenths of the whole American people, North and South, are anxious for peace—peace on almost any terms—and utterly sick of human slaughter and devastation. I know that, to the general eye, it now seems that the rebels are anxious to negotiate and that we refuse their advances. I know that if this impression be not removed we shall be beaten out of sight next November. I firmly believe that, were the election to take place to-morrow, the democratic majority in this state and Pennsylvania would amount to 100,000, and that we should lose Connecticut also. Now if the Rebellion can be crushed before November it will do to go on. If not, we are rushing to certain ruin.
> I beg you, implore you, to inaugurate or invite proposals for peace forthwith. And in case peace cannot now be made consent to an armistice for one year, each party to retain unmolested all it now holds, but the rebel ports to be opened. Meantime let a national convention be held, and there will surely be no more war at all events.

This is the language of as pure and patriotic a man as ever lived, and yet at that time no worse counsel could possibly have been given. The usually sound and vigorous understanding of Greeley seemed to drift from the moorings of common sense whenever he was confronted with the horrors of war. Greeley hated war, despised a soldier's trade as a non-productive calling that sucked its life, like a leech, out of the ample bosom of peace and productive labor. He believed in peace, plows and schools, and he could never face war without shrinking, even when he confessed that it was war for a high and noble cause.

It was a curious spectacle. These great men were both old whigs, fervent admirers of Henry Clay; both were born full of "the milk of human kindness;" both were haters of slavery, inhumanity, injustice and impurity; both were men of absolute integrity, unquailing moral courage and lofty, unselfish patriotism, and yet Greeley was a very thorn in Lincoln's flesh on more than one occasion. Why? First, because Greeley's native genius was that of a critic, and when he had no enemy near at hand to punish he could no more help whipping the jacket of his friends than the house cat can help eating the pet canary; and second Greeley from his earliest boyhood at the printer's case was temperamentally so wedded to peace as to be practically a non-resistant. He had a large, healthy body, but from the cradle to the grave Horace Greeley never struck anybody, and when anybody struck him, as did Rust, of Arkansas, he made no resistance. He seemed to carry his love of peace and his hate and contempt of war to an extreme. He did not believe in fighting for rights between individuals and he sincerely believed that the methods of war could never settle any question between nations and settle it right for all time. The enthusiasm after Sumter swept him off his feet, but the moment that our great battles began to fill the land with mourners and our hospitals with maimed soldiers, then Greeley's natural passion for peace and his loathing for war resumed control, and out of this benevolent hate and horror of bloodshed, human suffering and wasted treasure came his shrill cry to Lincoln for peace at any price. In season and out of season Greeley was for peace, because his tender heart and sensitive organization was bowed down to weakness by the awful spectacle of war.

THE STATE OF WASHINGTON.

To-morrow the convention to form a constitution for the state of Washington will assemble at Olympia. THE OREGONIAN of to-morrow will contain an elaborate article by Hon. W. Lair Hill, of Seattle, containing an outline of the main features of a constitution for the new state, with commentary on the principles of constitutions in general. The article will occupy large space in THE OREGONIAN, and it is believed will be fruitful in suggestion and useful as a guide to the results that the convention will desire to reach. There is no man more competent for a work like this than Mr. Hill, and his article may be confidently commended as one of special value.

Realizing also that the time is a proper one for presentation of a sketch of the history of Washington, THE OREGONIAN has caused such sketch to be prepared, and will publish it to-morrow. It has been written by Mr. H. S. Lyman, who has special fitness for work of this character. His own studies and the line of work he has long been pursuing give him high qualifications for preparation of such a sketch, and he has been permitted to avail himself of materials gathered by Hon. Elwood Evans, who throughout a long life spent in Washington territory has been studiously collecting and carefully preserving the data for a history, which is now well advanced toward completion.

For accommodation of this matter, as well as of the usual contents of a newspaper, THE OREGONIAN of to-morrow will consist of sixteen pages. It is believed that this number will be of special value to Washington territory, and moreover since Oregon and Washington are so closely knit together in ties of interest and mutual regard, that it will be of great interest throughout Oregon.

LUGUBRIOUS AND LUDICROUS.

The following circular was scattered throughout Rome by the clerical party on the day before the ceremonies in honor of Giordano Bruno. It is, indeed, a doleful howl to be set up over the erection of a monument to a man who was burned at the stake for being a "heretic" and teaching that the earth revolves round the sun; but after a while "the clerical party" even in Rome may get used to this sort of thing, and not be so sorely troubled when honors are paid to the memory of those courageous souls who freed human conscience from its thraldom and opened a way for science through the superstitions of a system handed down from eras of mental, moral and religious darkness. The New York Herald's dispatch from Rome, from which we reprint this circular, says the issuance of it was "certainly ill-advised," since it was a further revelation of the character of the "clerical party." From this judgment no great number anywhere will be much inclined to dissent. Here is the circular:

> The scandal about to be perpetrated in Rome wounds and vexes every Christian soul. Bands of miscreants bearing the black livery of Satan are assembling in this sacred city—the center and heart of Christianity. With impious eagerness they applaud the erection of a monument which, in this city of Rome, will be a permanent insult to God, to Christ, and to his vicar on earth. The mind shudders at the horrible idea; but if the hearts of the faithful are pierced with grief, how much more profound and dolorous must be the grief of the common father of the faithful—the sovereign pontiff Leo XIII.
>
> To counteract such iniquity all priests are invited on the Day of Pentecost to offer the divine sacrifice of the mass for the holy father, and the faithful are invited to communicate on that day and to recite the sacred rosary with the same object in view, and for the conversion of the sinners.
>
> Thus, while in this city, which is the rightful seat of the vicar of Christ, the ungrateful sons of the church, blinded by the demon, outrage Almighty God, his Christ and his vicar, the faithful will in reparation offer the victim propitiation, while they pray to the Queen of Heaven, who is, moreover, the mother of sinners, for the conversion of their misguided brethren.

Theodore Dwight Woolsey, ex-president of Yale college, died at New Haven on the afternoon of July 1, at the age of 87. He graduated from Yale in 1820, studied law at Philadelphia for one year, and then turned his attention to theology. In 1825 he was licensed to preach, and from 1827 to 1830 he pursued the study of the Greek language and literature in the universities of Germany. Upon his return from abroad he was elected professor of Greek at Yale, which position he retained for fifteen years. In 1846 he was elected president of the college, and continued to act in that capacity to 1871, when he resigned. He was an able and voluminous writer upon theology and Greek literature, and his opinions upon international law were held in great esteem. Now that he is dead American literature and scholarship has lost one of its ablest exponents.

Degrees, as they are conferred by American colleges, have little or no significance. The quiet scholar who merits such a distinction seldom secures it. College authorities are not searching for genuine merit. They seek men high in public life, and endeavor by their reputation to enhance their own. The time has come when we must stop empty ceremony and distinction like this. If the more influential universities cease such pettiness the smaller ones will follow.

The foreign consulates number 320. There are however over 3000 anxious loyal citizens who are ambitious to place their patriotic services at the disposal of the government. Our consuls are among the poorest paid public officials, and it is difficult to see why there should be so great a rush. A residence abroad, however, with expenses paid seems to be the irresistible inducement.

There is a programme for the celebration at Vancouver to-morrow which is at once novel and attractive. It is given in an advertisement that appears in THE OREGONIAN, and no doubt will take many persons to Vancouver. The military evolutions and sham battle will give spectators an idea of the pomp and circumstance of glorious war, without subjecting anybody to the dangers that attend the burning of villainous saltpeter when its leaden messengers ride on violent wings of fire. The Irishman who when asked to enlist as a soldier declined with the remark, "But, yer honor, barring the shooting and the danger attending it, it's meself wouldn't mind being a soldier at all, at all," didn't know about the fun of these sham battles.

The Topeka, Kansas, State Journal has been gathering the opinions of famous women upon the subject of the national flower. Lucy Stone wants the sunflower; Frances Willard, the trailing arbutus; Alice Stone Blackwell, the arbutus; Belva Lockwood, the golden rod; Laura C. Holloway prefers the apple-blossom; Edna Dean Proctor, the mountain laurel; Eleanor Kirk, the golden rod; Candace Wheeler, the magnolia; Phoebe A. Hanaford, the arbutus; Grace Greenwood selects the magnolia; Alice Donley wishes it to be the arbutus; Gertrude Harrison selects the rose; Lelia J. Robinson would have the dandelion, and Margaret Bottome prefers the golden rod.

The Helena Daily Independent scores President Harrison's policy as pecksniffian, because he has appointed Frederick Douglass to "a petty foreign mission." If the editor of the Independent would post himself on current events, he would know that the situation of affairs in Hayti, through political agitation, demands able treatment, and that Mr. Douglass will need to exercise great caution in order to keep this government free from international complications; and as the appointee is satisfied we hope that the Independent will cease its lamentations.

It is to be hoped that the greed for rapid enrichment will not blind the people of this state to danger arising from the indiscriminate destruction of forests. Professor Knott, a scientist of note, has warned the people of Kentucky that destroying too great an amount of trees will entail "the peril of floods, the increase of temperature abnormally in summer, and its decrease in winter in like manner, and that the general result must be to adversely affect the health and reduce the capacity of the people for labor."

It is reported that one of the grand jurors in the Cronin case said that a full investigation against Sullivan would not be advisable at present, because owing to the imperfect state of the evidence, it would be impossible to find a true bill against him. From this statement it would appear that this juryman thinks it his duty to find a true bill against Sullivan. A man of such bias is not likely to weigh facts impartially and ought not to be allowed to remain on the jury.

Some of the newspapers are warning the public against the African railway scheme, claiming that C. P. Huntington, who will invest $50,000 in the road, expects to net a handsome profit. We might as well refuse the benefit of all semi-public enterprise because the projectors gain by it. If the people of the West had been so narrow-minded, there would be few railroads crossing the country and little of the development that in the last few years has opened up to the world possibilities undreamed of before.

Solomon of biblical fame pronounced the dictum, that when a child erred it should be chastised, and admonished parents not to spare the rod. The pedagogue of this age however who stands in loco parentis while teaching, reports that practical experience proves corporal punishment, as a corrective measure, is not near so effective as moral suasion. Physical punishment has almost entirely disappeared from the public schools of the country. Even Solomon with all his wisdom did not know everything.

Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur in illis. Two years ago the governor of Oregon in a message to the legislature insisted that the supreme court of the state had no right to pass on the constitutionality of laws enacted by the legislature of Oregon. Now he wishes the constitutionality of the laws enacted by the legislature of Oregon to be passed on and decided by the supreme court of the state of Indiana. Tempora mutantur et nos mutamur in illis.

Two arrant fools were brought together in Missouri last week. One, a physician, who offered $500 to the man who would consent to allow a mad dog to bite him; the other, an idiot who allowed the dog to bury his poisonous fangs in his flesh. It would be a hard matter to decide which one of this pair is entitled to be handed down to posterity as the more stupendous idiot. If the victim should die, however, that doctor ought to be tried for murder.

Some little activity has been infused into "the force" by police agitation. A gambler has been arrested on an old indictment, and a few houses of prostitution have been raided. The officers of the law are not entirely bereft of conscientious scruples. They wish to do something to meet public approval. We next expect to hear that some more than ordinarily vigilant officer has actually captured a boy for playing baseball on the street.

Preparations are being made, throughout the country for taking the census. Robert P. Porter at the head of the bureau, is a famous statistician and the government will be able to rely upon accuracy of his reports. This state is divided into two districts, East and West, and 200 men will be required to enumerate our population. Oregon will be able to exhibit a great increase in the number of her citizens during the last decade.

It is time that some of the railroad companies purchased improved smokestacks from which no sparks can fly. Several valuable wheat fields in this state have been totally destroyed recently through fires started by sparks from passing engines.

John Ready, of Detroit, masqueraded for twelve years as a woman, and during that time received four proposals of marriage. Evidently Senator Jones did not meet him or the number of proposals might have been increased to five.

The majority of Company [illegible] married men who have but few days dur- [illegible] year that they can spare for enjoyment [illegible] families, and they feel that, as the gen- [illegible] in the city has been given up, they owe [illegible] to their families that ought to be paid. In [illegible] this liberal amount to the fund they [illegible] it for more than they could be, the [illegible] participants and their generosity will [illegible] be appreciated by the citizens of Van- [illegible]. The company has always responded [illegible] to the call of duty and can be relied [illegible] to hold well its part as a military organiza- [illegible] that the members feel that in such a case as [illegible] better to contribute in such a substantial [illegible] manner than to attend as an organ- [illegible].

[illegible] ROAD PROGRESSING.—Work is progress- [illegible] on the cable road. The crossing [illegible] at Eleventh and Jefferson s [illegible] in good shape, there being about forty [illegible] employed under the supervision of General [illegible] Lynch and the work being all done in [illegible]. The heavy depression pulleys and [illegible] have arrived and the work of [illegible] for the hill will be begun this morning [illegible] them in will be begun this morning. [illegible] fill up the gaps in the line on the hill [illegible] a continuous road from Spring street to [illegible], with the exception of 1,200 feet on one [illegible] trestle, with the exception of the slot rail has not arrived. The [illegible] for which the slot rail has not arrived. The [illegible] under the trestle is being put in, and [illegible] and slot rail will be laid on the trestle [illegible] next week the force will be at the [illegible] hill, when it is expected that material [illegible] on hand so that the work can go right [illegible].

[illegible] FAILURE STATISTICS.—During the [illegible] ending June 29, 1889 there were re- [illegible] to the Portland office of the Bradstreet [illegible] Agency twenty nine failures in Ore- [illegible] with total actual assets of $51,449 48 total [illegible], average liability per fail- [illegible] $165 51, percentage of assets to liabi- [illegible]. In Washington territory, for the same [illegible] there were forty two failures (not includ- [illegible] several business embarrassments caused by [illegible] fire), with total assets of $14[illegible]20 78 [illegible] liabilities, $275,580 7, average liability per [illegible] $655 49, percentage of assets to [illegible] 60. For the same period in 1888 Oregon [illegible] reported twenty-eight failures reported with total [illegible] total debts, $548,187 50. Wash- [illegible] territory had thirty five failures total [illegible], total debts, $228,185.

[illegible] FREE SWIMMING BATHS.—The contract for [illegible] the free swimming baths has been [illegible] to [illegible] Coombs, whose bid was $1100, not in- [illegible] painting. Only about $700 has been col- [illegible] by the committee but they deemed it ad- [illegible] at the solicitation of many citizens to [illegible] with the work relying upon the generos- [illegible] of the public to make up the deficiency of [illegible]. No trouble is anticipated in collecting this [illegible] for an enterprise of so much importance [illegible] the welfare of the city, and the citizens will [illegible] respond to the small demands made [illegible] them with liberality. Contributions can be [illegible] by all who are not called on by the bath [illegible] committee, with either of the committee— [illegible] Holman, Watkins, McKercher and [illegible].

EXCURSION TO ASTORIA WITH THE MULTNO- MAH.—The excursion of the Albina M. E. church [illegible] to-morrow with the steamer Multno- [illegible] will leave Alder street wharf (south side) at 8 A. M. sharp, stopping at Johnson's wharf, East Portland, and Shaver's wharf, Albina. The Mult- [illegible], returning, will leave Astoria three hours [illegible] than any other boat, making no stops by [illegible] way, either going or returning. Fare, $1; chil- [illegible] 50 cents. Refreshments on steamer for those [illegible] wish. Tickets now for sale at Hov[illegible] [illegible] store and J. K. Gill's bookstore, Portland; J. S. Wells, opposite postoffice, and Ormsby's groc- ery, East Portland; Fisher's drugstore, Albina. [illegible] limited in number. Tickets already over [illegible] sold. People should get their tickets to-day.

COMPLETE COMFORT.—No country in the world [illegible] affords superior summer resorts to those [illegible] the great state of Oregon. The season is now [illegible] hand when a great many of Portland's citizens [illegible] be leaving the city for parts of the coast, [illegible] to the seaside at Clatsop, others to Long [illegible] Beach, still others to Ilwaco, and a great number [illegible] other equally favored portions of the seaside. [illegible] & Mayer, 76 First street, wish to announce [illegible] gentlemen will not find their outfit complete [illegible] without a box of fine cigars, some smoking to- [illegible] or a few cigarettes. This firm is now offer- [illegible] some of the very best brands of cigars and [illegible] as well as a full assortment of smokers' articles. All orders sent them by mail will re- ceive prompt attention.

[illegible] VANCOUVER.—The Vancouver Transpor- [illegible] Company will run three steamers to Van- [illegible] on the Fourth of July. The first will leave [illegible] of Taylor street at 8 30 A. M., the second [illegible] the third following immediately thereafter. [illegible] afternoon the Lurline will leave at [illegible] another steamer at 6 30 P. M. returning, [illegible] Vancouver at 10 30 and 11 [illegible] A. M. [illegible] and 4 30 P. M. or after the [illegible] o'clock and after the fire- [illegible] works. No [illegible] and to carry passengers back to the [illegible] comfort, speed and [illegible] trip with- [illegible] smoke, dust and transferring, take these [illegible] steamers. Round trip tickets 50 cents each. The [illegible] company reserve the right to change schedule to [illegible] suit the programme.

THEY WILL CELEBRATE.—The citizens of Wash- [illegible] county are making every endeavor to [illegible] the greatest celebration this year that they [illegible] ever had. The funds have been chiefly [illegible] collected and the proposed celebration generally [illegible] managed by the people of Hillsboro, where it is [illegible] to be held. Over a dozen animals are to be bar- [illegible] becued and a high old time generally is to be [illegible]. An extensive programme is prepared in- [illegible] cluding music, speeches, games, races, etc. The [illegible] feature however will be the barbecue. All [illegible] people are welcome, no admission [illegible] charge. Hillsboro is a social and hospitable [illegible] town, and is rapidly developing enterprise as [illegible] well. Railway fares will be at half rates.

PRETTY AS A PICTURE.—In the window of Hud- [illegible] son's gun store is displayed a very handsome [illegible] specimen of the taxidermist's art prepared by [illegible] Captain S. S. Douglass, of 411 Third street, [illegible] an [illegible] capitalist. It consists of a pair of Mon- [illegible] golian pheasants, male and female, with a num- [illegible] ber of their young, mounted in beautiful style [illegible] and arranged behind an oval glass in a heavy and [illegible] handsome gilt frame. The background is formed [illegible] to represent a rock, and is ornamented with [illegible] grasses and ferns, and forms a fine contrast with [illegible] the plumage of the birds. This is a new and [illegible] charming style of mounting birds and forms a [illegible] fine ornament for the hall or dining room.

[illegible] SALMON.—Several fishermen returned yes- [illegible] terday from a visit to the hatchery on the Clack- [illegible] amas with a dozen or so of the large trout so [illegible] plentiful above the weir. These fish are about [illegible] three feet long and about as large around as a [illegible] man's wrist. As a fish-dealer who saw them re- [illegible] marked, "If they aren't sick steelheads I'm a [illegible] fool." They are however able to afford lots of [illegible] sport to men who have no scruples against killing [illegible] them. Business is being carried on in a very [illegible] slipshod manner at the hatchery this season and [illegible] the amount of good effected is likely to be small.

RAH FOR VANCOUVER.—The excursion of the [illegible] First regiment, O. N. G., to Vancouver to-morrow [illegible] promises to be the most enjoyable event of the [illegible] season. The regiment has chartered the elegant [illegible] new steamer G. W. Shaver, which will leave the [illegible] Morrison street dock at 8 o'clock A. M. and 1 [illegible] o'clock P. M. with barges attached, arriving in [illegible] time for the street parade in the morning and the [illegible] sham battle in the afternoon. Return trips will [illegible] be made immediately after the sham battle and [illegible] after the display of fireworks in the evening. The [illegible] First regiment band will play during each trip.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT VANCOUVER. —The Portland & Vancouver railway will run [illegible] trains on this day every forty five minutes from [illegible] 7 15 A. M. and until midnight. There will be two [illegible] trains running all day. One will not have long to [illegible] wait if he does miss one train and he will not [illegible] have to wait for a certain hour to return. He can [illegible] come back whenever he pleases. There will be [illegible] plenty of cars on each train. Take the morning [illegible] trains, before the rush and before it gets very hot. [illegible] Special time cards at depot, East Portland, Stark [illegible] street ferry and all the hotels.

[illegible] BALL PLAYING FOR YOU.—The baseball [illegible] game which The Dalles and Arlington clubs were [illegible] to have played at Arlington last Sunday did not [illegible] materialize. The Dalles had one game to their [illegible] credit, and to make sure of another they sent to [illegible] Portland and engaged Landis, McAndries, Garson [illegible] and other players of the Portlands. When the [illegible] Arlingtons heard of this they sent a man to Port- [illegible] land, who engaged Tom Parrott and five other [illegible] players of the Willamettes to play with them. [illegible] The Dalles nine got word of this action and did [illegible] not show up at all.

STEAMER MICHIGAN CHARTERED.—The O. R. & N. Company have chartered J. B. Montgomery's [illegible] steamer Michigan which they will run to Puget [illegible] Sound and British Columbia. The negotiations [illegible] for securing the steamer City of Topeka have [illegible] fallen through and the Michigan taken instead. [illegible] The Michigan is a very good freight boat and will [illegible] carry about 800 tons. She will commence loading [illegible] this morning and will sail Wednesday night or [illegible] the following morning. The company will now [illegible] run a steamer every six days to Port Townsend.

A GALA DAY.—To-morrow everybody will go to [illegible] Vancouver. A man can't go to a picnic without [illegible] a new hat. To enable every one to invest in one [illegible] & Co. have reduced every straw hat in [illegible] the house—$1 25 for 75 cents, 75 cent hats for 45 [illegible], 50 cent hats for 25 cents. An immense dis- [illegible] play of Oregon City woolen mills suits at [illegible]. A suit of that kind made to order costs [illegible] no less than $25. For the ladies all the French [illegible] (no reserve) will be sold at 1 cents per [illegible].

REAL ESTATE AT AUCTION.—To-day at 2 o'clock P. M., A. B. Richardson, auctioneer, will sell on [illegible] the corner of First and Washington streets a [illegible] valuable tract of land containing thirty five acres [illegible] known as the Richard Price tract. This beautifully [illegible] located property has a half mile frontage on [illegible] Hawthorne avenue and offers a grand opportunity [illegible] for a safe and profitable investment.

LACE SALE FOR TO-DAY.—E. Meyer & Co. will [illegible] have a special sale of laces to-day and all prices [illegible] reduced to half the value, every piece of lace [illegible] in the house is marked down. Look at their ad- [illegible] price list, and call early for best [illegible] selections.

THE FIRST REGIMENT EXCURSION.—Owing to the fact that the First regiment were arranging for an excursion to Vancouver July 4 the O. R. & N. A CURIOUS BUSINESS.—On Saturday last an Irishman went into the postoffice in this city to post a letter, and after looking around a little he accosted another man who had come on the same errand with "[illegible] there's the hole for Wal[illegible] [illegible] territory, and [illegible] there's the hole for the states, and there's the hole for the city. Faith the devil's the hole for Oireland?" This is an omission that Postmaster Roby should supply.

In the time of the greatest ruptures in society, and consequent enthusiasm, music plays the most important part for either good or evil. Nothing so appeals to the feelings as the harmony of music. While this is the time of year for brass bands and processions people should not forget that magnificent instrument the piano, and above all they should select the best in the matchless Decker Bros., sold only by the Kohler & Chase music house of this city, 71 Morrison street.

BASEBALL FOR THE CHAMPIONSHIP

The Willamettes have made arrangements with the Seattle club for three games on July 3, 4 and 5 for the championship of the Northwest at Clinton & McCoy's grounds in East Portland. PORTLAND. WEDNESDAY JULY 3

OWNERSHIP BY ALIENS

England evidently has been making money and capital has increased there until they find it difficult to use their money When we look at our country as it is and as it was before the war we also recognize that immense wealth has accumulated here so that bonds of government, state and railways are now taken up as home property and any new corporation can secure all the capital necessary for purposes that are deserving however great the amount Capital is increasing and interest is decreasing when money is wanted by tens of millions but the "bloated bondholder" doesn t care to tax his intellect with mere hundreds of thousands

In seeking opportunities for investments English capital seizes hold of immense interests and makes outlays on a wholesale plan of operations Yesterday it was a gathering-in of great breweries in Western cities that absorbed a cool ten millions of money To day it is a scheme to monopolize the wholesale dry goods trade of America as carried on in our large cities To morrow it will be a continuance of the purchase of mining ground and securing the best mineral districts in North America Gradually but surely foreign money is being invested by cool-headed schemers who seldom if ever, make a mistake It was by making no mistakes that this capital was acquired and by the same policy it is to grow beyond all question

Our country contains undeveloped wealth that has possibilities beyond computation It has wild land that must be kept for the people, it has wealth in embryo that we will cheerfully share with any who will come to make homes among us but that we cannot afford to permit aliens to claim and hold under any pretension or purchase There should be as strict legislation as can be framed to prevent the alienation of any landed estate, or mineral or mining interest or franchise or business that will constitute valuable privileges. It is loyalty not selfishness that demands such a course It should not be possible for foreign capital to buy out American enterprises and put their earnings in foreign pockets It may be said that such a protest is folly and no danger exists but the resources of our country will not spoil while waiting for home capital to develop them There are so many people who are crazy almost to secure development and see progress but vast as these resources may seem they can be exhausted, and if progress is only made to enrich aliens if development has no end but to put the resources of America at the disposal of foreign syndicates mines may as well be idle and traffic be restricted to what our own business men can transact

If English capital holds 12 000 000 of American acres on speculation what good can it do to American interests? It is possible that a land sale has put money in the treasury of some great railroad but how much better to have had this land occupied by producers and made available to swell the output of our agriculture There can be no contingency possible or probable where foreign ownership of land or mines or conduct of enterprises familiar to our needs can be a permanent benefit to the nation The ownership of such interests is very different from our citizens borrowing money to conduct such enterprises with The one is a policy suicidal and the other is a plain piece of finance

NOTE AND COMMENT

It seems that dried fruits will stand a long ocean voyage and change of climate on the sea without injury A writer in the Rural Press sent a box of sulphuretted dried fruits on the long voyage around Cape Horn It was dipped in boiling water in which was a little glycerin before packing The articles sent were apricots and peaches and it arrived in good order When the Isthmus route shall be in operation a great deal of such freight will go East by that route and will greatly reduce prices for transport

There is a movement at San Francisco to start a silk factory some years ago $100 000 were spent upon buildings and machinery and this having been abandoned is now pitched upon by the Japanese mission backed by Eastern men for $ 1 000 and will soon be in operation The work will be done by Japanese students who work and study on separate shifts The object is to make the mission self supporting About 150 of these students will be employed Many will be surprised to know that there is such a Japanese school in existence with so many scholars in attendance

The producer feels the worst tax of any and that is the charge made by the middle man In cherry time a grocer was complaining that he only made 25 cents clear on a box of cherries and thought he was badly used. The fruit grower said I set out the trees and have waited ten years for them to grow and during all that time have cultivated and cared for them and I sell them to you clearing above cost only 25 cents a box I have done all this work and waited all these years and am satisfied to make 25 cents for all trouble and expense while you are not satisfied to make the same money at one handling

We have all heard that the mountain state was the home of great herds of cattle and droves of horses and some sheep crept in and wintered on the wind blown ridges. The result of this is seen in the following from a Great Falls paper and no doubt it is strictly true Montana is about to be the greatest wool state in the Union Such is the opinion of one of the best authorities in the Boston wool trade. She would find ready sale for 50,000 000 pounds now if she produced so much Montana wool is the best range wool received in the Eastern markets. It is so good that we learn from authority that much inferior wool is shipped from other territories and sold as Montana

The National Economist says Capitalism is but the natural development of despotism This sounds very wise but when was this not the case? The world very nearly fills Solomon s assertion that there is nothing new under the sun Money made the mare go then as now and the rich man was bowed down to Men got rich in every stage of time and other men kept poor It is only possible to give all a fair chance and let the devil take the hindmost. Money is power So is knowledge So is labor Labor has rather the strongest hand in the game if it only knew it and was not afraid to carry on a stiff bluff This preaching against riches is the poorest business ever indulged in

A farmer s paper thinks farmers should combine to do some of the banking business of the country and as an inducement for the effort holds out the following Few farmers have any idea how much money the business of banking pays In this city there is one bank which has a capital of $500 000 and a surplus of $1 000 000 Its stock is worth in the market $450 to $100 of stock First National bank stock is quoted at $2000 for $100 of stock So it may be seen that there is big money in banking But don t forget one thing, there are big brains behind the money If we want to make big success in anything we must have some brains No fool ever made a great success of anything yet Farmers can bring business sense and methods into other than attempts at banking for the want of the same causes constant loss. If a farmer were not afraid of himself and everybody else so often he could take hold of work with better success

One great question for this section is in reference to transporting products East The fruits especially of this region would be in demand at the East and in many cities of the West and middle continent if a speculative rate will be afforded at reasonable rates The ordinary fruits of our state are worth less than the freight to ship by the slowest train and sometimes one half what is charged for a fast fruit train If sent by express green fruit is charged nearly 6 cents a pound not for the fruit carried that is not worth over one fourth that price in the orchard Fruits constitute a leading feature of California and will be a great feature as to Oregon if it can be encouraged The fruit interest has such possibilities that all that affects it is important The variety of such products grown in California makes it possible to do what Oregon cannot for many years to come. Meantime how to secure transit to this interest is something of great importance to our region

Human life is held too cheap in this country in some instances and too high in others The life of a man who performs duties that are invaluable to the world is sacrificed by recklessness that goes unpunished while some worthless fellow who murders is tried several times by juries who finally set him free to do more murder A stage driver recently overturned his stage and a passenger s life was lost, because he wanted to outrace another s stage That passenger was a man whose wisdom was appreciated the world over but the driver who actually murdered him went free In the recent excursion where so many children were killed in a wrecked train that went out from Belfast Ireland all the managers of that railroad who could be held responsible for the accident were sent to jail to await their trial for murder That would not have been done in America, but in Great Britain they hold men responsible where human life is sacrificed and demand that those who manage transportation shall exercise all possible care In all the wrecks of trains occurring in America, what railroad manager has ever been punished when wrecked trains have caused death and ruin?

The St Louis Journal of Commerce asks if the interstate commerce law is a boomerang and comes back to the injury of the people who demanded its passage? This is timely as a question to be solved and it is a wonder it has not been solved before this Texas merchants complain that the long haul clause makes goods cost more as it adds 50 cents to the cost of a plow The long haul clause has made it difficult for Pacific coast producers and consumers to get reasonable rates for the traffic manager can always come back with this law as a clinching argument The Journal says When the operation of the law is understood the demand for its repeal will be louder than for its passage It was much like the granger legislation of Oregon that could not endure and the effect of its demands on money It may be that the interstate law has enabled the commissioners to put an end to some discriminations but it has not enabled us to get any goods cheaper here than they came before its passage It is well enough to maintain the commission and even give it greater powers but the long haul clause did not work all the blessings that were expected of it

INDIAN SCHOOLS IN ALASKA

A Special Senatorial Committee Now on Its Way West

CHICAGO July 1 —The senatorial committee to investigate the condition and requirements of the present and proposed Indian schools in Alaska will leave here to morrow It is made up of Senators Dawes of Massachusetts Stockbridge of Michigan Manderson of Nebraska Jones of Arkansas and possibly Wolcott of Colorado Chairman Dawes s private secretary said to night that the trip is being made at the suggestion of Senator Dawes who wants the committee to see the territory and the Indians for whom the government has been making pretty large appropriations The main object of the trip is in connection with the appropriation for Indian schools

The committee will go from this city directly to Port Townsend via Omaha and Tacoma where the government steamer Albatross will be at their disposal until July 25 by which time they expect to return to Port Townsend and after a few days in Washington territory return East about August 1 The trip will be an extensive one and after visiting the most northern school and islands just off the main coast the committee if it has time may cross to the island of Kodiak 633 miles west of the main land

The schools already established that the party will try to visit are at Jackson Fort Tongass Loring, Fort Wrangle, Killisnoo Juneau Hoonah Haines, Ounalaska and Bethel They will also have a look at as many as possible of the proposed school sites at Fort Alexandria in Bristol bay St Michael's on Norton sound Kodiak island and Sitka

Mr Olin said, in conclusion On our return it is possible the committee will go to the Puyallup reservation adjacent to Tacoma to take a look into Indian Agent Eells s agency Delegate Voorhees preferred charges against Eells about six months ago The matter was taken up by the committee and dropped They want to see how Eells is doing

CROP PROSPECTS.

Excellent Reports From the Wheat and Rye Producing Districts.

CHICAGO July 1 —The Farmers' Review will publish in its issue this week a careful estimate based on reports from its correspondents relative to the possible yield of wheat

In the winter wheat states with the exception of Kentucky and Indiana where drouth was experienced in April and May winter wheat has arrived at the harvesting stage in good condition and with good prospects of a large percentage of No 1 hard There is little change in the acreage, except in Kansas where there is an increase of about 25 per cent and in Missouri and Illinois, where there has been a considerable falling off in the area devoted to winter wheat

The condition of the crop at the time of harvest as compared with last year is as follows Illinois 115 per cent, Michigan 120 Kentucky 105 Kansas 110 Indiana 125 Ohio 125 Missouri 130

The average yield per acre is Illinois 15 bushels Michigan 16 Kentucky 10 8 Kansas 20 Indiana 13 Ohio 14 Missouri 18

The acreage is Illinois 2 250 640 Indiana 2 774 062 Ohio 2 655 227 Kentucky 1 013 228 Missouri 1 402 620 Kansas 1 312 500 Michigan 1 612 847

The total yield for the seven states is 193 373 000 bus Assuming that the crop in the other states of the Union will yield the same returns as last year viz 117 860 000 bus the total winter wheat crop of 1889 will be about 313 234 000 bushels

Prospects are also favorable for a good yield of rye although the area is indicated to be about 10 per cent less than last year s The average yield per acre however will be heavy enough to make up any deficiency in acreage Present indications point to a yield of 28 951 000 bushels, the largest crop since 1884

Flowers for Your Lady Love

Bob in Louisville Courier Journal

Who doesn t remember when it was the received thing to send your sweetheart every evening an enormous breastwork of flowers where the roses were stabbed into position by wires and the whole effect of which was stiff beyond expression? Mademoiselle had her corsage bouquet and she would have felt that the world was not quite right without it that her beauty must be fading and that her sweetheart must be growing weary of her But now! The young man gets down on his knees and gives thanks because these belongings are no longer demanded from him If he sends any flowers at all they must come in a big box loose long stemmed and dripping with dew They may be daisies plucked from some country meadow, they may be wild roses or they may be the great stiff scentless ones that have been cultured in greenhouses But few or many they must not even be tied with a ribbon, or sent in a basket for pretty shoulders are shrugged and eyebrows are curved at these made up baskets which have like patchouli an odor of the other world Women never wear flowers In a ball room a huge bouquet may be carried but that is all To mankind belongs the small boutonnierre and even that is considered rather more the property of the very young than of the mature man of the world

Gold Shipments to France

NEW YORK July 1 —The Commercial Advertiser calls attention to the great shipment of gold to France from here From June 4 to June 21 the gold exported to France reached over $20 000 000 while the total exports to England for the same period were under $7 000 000 Last Saturday gold exported to France amounted to $2 800 000

The Commercial Advertiser advances several theories to account for the large shipments and says The more general theory is that France is strengthening her gold reserves for greater security in anticipation of the possibility of war

SHOOTING CALLOW BIRDS

Some Plain and Practical Remarks on the Subject by a Correspondent.

PORTLAND OR July 1

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

The paragraph in your issue of to day headed A Mean Thing to Do will I trust bear fruit and bring home to the parties complained of, the disgrace and discredit attached to shooting game out of season As the law at present stands the close time for grouse pheasant and quail is short enough already The pine or blue grouse may this year be three quarters grown but in my experience of ten years they are seldom more than half on an average the ruffed grouse or pheasant has never been more than half grown on the 15th of July and it is admitted by all that quail do not reach maturity until well on in September The waste of food when such immature birds are shot affects the whole community and it cannot certainly be considered sport to slaughter helpless youngsters All true sportsmen even though they go out on the 15th of July refrain from shooting the many callow birds they are sure to see on that day even if the law allows them

You say there are several sportsmen here who would be willing to attend to the prosecution of those fellows if they were furnished with the necessary proof I am pleased to learn that such is the case and trust that every town throughout the valley can furnish others equally willing

This year the close season ends on a Monday and I have no hesitation in saying that dozens of so called sportsmen will leave this city Saturday and Sunday so as to have a day among the birds on Sunday the 14th rather than wait until the close time has expired thinking of course that twenty four hours or so will make little difference There is an old saying that a miss is good as a mile and on the same principle one day before the season begins must be as bad as one two or three months If the gentlemen to whom you refer as willing to prosecute will be on the lookout on the evening of the 14th or watch the early trains and boats on the morning of the 15th they will find (if this discussion does not frighten them) many of our well known sportsmen (?) returning loaded with game which must have been shot out of season Express companies will probably be bringing birds to market at the same time Let them begin the work at home, if they have the opportunity and show a good example to our country cousins

While on this subject may I ask when does the season for deer open? It used to be on the 1st of July but some one has informed me that the last legislature played some peculiar tactics with the law making it the 31st of August Yours C

MARVELOUS ENTERPRISE

The Pennsylvania Railway s Excursion to the Press

WASHINGTON June 26 The Pennsylvania railroad has for many years been in the habit of giving an excursion to the correspondents and local newspaper men of Washington and last Friday they were taken to Cresson Springs at the summit of the Alleghenies near Altoona and to Johnstown, which is a few miles beyond the Mountain house at Cresson which stands in one of the most beautiful spots in the whole world It was given up entirely to the correspondents and their families from Friday until Monday for it was not open to the public until the following day Every creature comfort was provided for in a most lavish manner and if the reporters had been princes they could not have been entertained in a more truly royal style Although the object of the trip was merely to give the boys a few days of rest and recreation in the mountains the most interesting part of the trip was a visit to the appalling ruins of Johnstown which was made on Sunday under the guidance of Mr George W Boyd the assistant passenger agent of the Pennsylvania company and other officers of the road The train was run so as to give the best possible view of the scene of desolation and although the press published column after column of the most graphic and truthful description no pen could frame a complete picture of the disaster and the mind cannot possibly realize the extent of the devastation when described by another The eye at once can comprehend the situation there for the imagination of a Jules Verne or a Rider Haggard would find it impossible to invent anything approaching it and the energy of the Pennsylvania railroad company in repairing the damage is about as marvelous as the disaster itself for within forty eight hours after the dam had broken and the flood had swept away $20 000 000 worth of property the company had 10 000 men at work repairing the damage All the skilled workmen and carpenters upon the Pennsylvania system were at once carried on special trains to the scene and engineers and workingmen from other lines were employed and sent forward as rapidly as possible All the bridge timber in Eastern Pennsylvania was purchased by telegraph and shipped at once to the nearest available point and within nine days after the flood broke trains were running regularly There never was such rapid and extensive building in the world Bridges 500 and 700 feet long were constructed in a few days gangs of workingmen being engaged constantly through the twenty four hours The marvelous energy and wonderful skill shown in this restoration has no parallel in history

JEAN INGELOW'S HOME

The Surroundings of a Sweet Woman and a Sweet Poet

Washington Press

But a few moment's ride from London is the Kensington home of Jean Ingelow whose poetry is so familiar to American readers The house is an old one of cream colored stone and one scarcely knows whether it has two or three stories Liberal grounds surround the house and even in winter show a gardener s care In summer the entire lawn is bordered and dotted with flowers for the poet is a pronounced horticulturist During the cold weather a spacious conservatory attached to the house shelters the flowers, and in this hothouse of palms and buds she is often found by her friends reading or writing Flowers bloom too in almost every room in the house, on the center table mantles and in the bay windows Jean Ingelow's home is that of a poet with books on every hand and always in reach wherever you may chance to sit down

The poet is now in middle life but her face shows not the slightest trace of years Her manner is most friendly her conversation charming and she has a most musical voice She enjoys a remarkably correct knowledge of American literature the titles of the latest American books being spoken by her with wonderful fluency Her character is eminently practical without a touch of sentimentality All her literary writing is done in the forenoon her pen is never put to paper by gaslight She composes slowly and her verses are often kept by her for months at a time before they are allowed to go out for publication She shuns society and the most severe part of the winter is spent in the south of France

IT IS LOTAN OR NOBODY.

That Is About the Way the City Council Feels About It.

The Mayor Explains Why He Failed to Make a Nomination—Mr. Everding Will Fight Hard for Mr. Simon's Place.

The failure of Mayor DeLashmutt to nominate a fire commissioner Monday night, and the refusal of the police commissioners to recognize Richard Everding as one of their number, furnished the politicians sweet morsels to roll under their gossipy tongues yesterday. The result of Mr. Everding's demand for his seat was just what it was expected it would be. Mr. Everding and his attorneys, Hon. George H. Williams and Judge Watson expected no more. They knew what was coming, for Messrs. Watson and Everding had a conversation with Commissioner Simon Monday afternoon, and he refused point blank to step down and out.

The mayor's failure to appoint a fire commissioner is what puzzled all. When he took his seat to preside over the council's deliberations it was generally understood that he had decided to submit the name of James Lotan, the present incumbent, for confirmation. Lotan's friends were confident and expected every minute to see the mayor send his appointment to Auditor Wood to be read. The routine business on hand was transacted and lo! the council adjourned without the mayor making a sign. His action set everybody to thinking yesterday.

"Were you prepared to make an appointment?" asked a reporter of Mayor DeLashmutt.

"Most assuredly I was" answered the mayor stretching himself on a lounge and smiling. "The council did not give me a chance to make my nomination. I was debating in my mind as to the proper time for making nominations when all of a sudden the council finished the business on hand and adjourned. I supposed that when the proper time came the council would elect a president after which I intended to nominate a fire commissioner. I did not care about such a little matter. I am not the one to be worried."

"Will you make a nomination to-morrow night?"

"Yes."

THE COUNCIL IS FOR LOTAN.

Mr. Lotan does not seem to have an easy time of it to get back into the commissionership. Three years ago, when his first term expired, Mayor Gates readily reappointed him, but the council was not disposed to confirm him. After a long siege he was confirmed. This year the council stands ready to confirm him, but the mayor is not in such a hurry to appoint him as Mayor Gates was.

Mr. Lotan's friends are confident that he will ultimately "get there." They say the council will confirm no one else. They expect that the mayor will name another man to begin with to-night, and seeing that this nominee cannot be confirmed, will nominate Mr. Lotan. Many of them believe that Mayor De Lashmutt will submit Lotan's name the first thing.

In the din of the fight for the fire commissionership the battle for the police commissionership will not be lost sight of. The latter promises to be the most prolonged and interesting of the two. Mr. Everding is going to do all he can to get the seat to which, he claims, he was elected.

"I expect to keep at it until the courts decide against me," said he to a reporter yesterday. "I am determined to find out if Mr. Simon has a legal right to his seat, and if he has he can keep it."

"Will you make any further efforts to obtain your seat until the courts decide?"

"No."

"There has been some talk of yourself and Commissioner Frank forming a separate commission, the business transacted by you to be recognized by a majority of the council. Is that so?"

"No, it is all guess work, and I do not see how it got started. Nothing has ever been said to me about it."

Commissioner Frank was asked Monday if he would stand in and transact business with Mr. Everding. He declined to do so.

It was learned from authentic sources, yesterday, that the commissioners contemplate making changes in the special police and will meet in a few days to decide definitely what to do. The reporter was told that changes would be made in certain beats. This is said to be due to Commissioner Frank's efforts. He does not believe in the special police system as now conducted. He has no objection to having watchmen, wearing stars and having power to make arrests in the business portion of town, but he is by no means satisfied with things as they are.

NO MORE LOW LIQUOR LICENSES.

The New Law Will Not Affect Retail Dealers, but Grocery Stores Will Be Shut Out.

The high license law, raising retail liquor licenses from $300 per annum to $400, and wholesale licenses from $50 to $100, went into effect yesterday. From the records kept by License Officer Abe Tichenor, it is seen that 203 retail liquor licenses were taken out during the last quarter. At the old rates these licenses would bring the city $60,900 per year. With the new license in force the annual revenue from the same number of saloons will be $81,200, an increase of $20,300.

The number of wholesale liquor licenses taken out during the last quarter is fifty-seven; this includes the wholesale liquor houses, grocery stores and about nineteen Chinese merchandise stores. The revenue derived by the city from them, at the rate of $50 per year, is $2850. Under the new ordinance, making the license $100 per year and placing the minimum limit of wholesaling at one gallon, only twelve of the fifty-seven will renew their licenses. The revenue accruing from the twelve at the rate of $100 per annum will be $1200, a deficit of $1650 as compared with the receipts from the fifty-seven under the old rates.

Combining the entire receipts under the old and new laws, on the assumption that the same number of retail licenses will be taken out and only twelve wholesale licenses, the annual liquor revenue will still show an increase of $18,650 under the so-called high license law.

All of the grocery stores and about eighteen Chinese shops which heretofore sold beer, liquors and wine by the quart, with a few exceptions, will be closed up under the administration of the new law. Grocery stores can continue to deal in liquors if they pay the $100 license and sell in no quantities less than one gallon.

Mayor DeLashmutt yesterday stated that he did not approve of the new law as affecting the grocery stores, and moreover, he would not sign the ordinance making it operative.

"If the object and intent of the law," said the mayor, "is to shut out the grocery stores to favor the wholesale liquor dealers, I am in favor of raising the wholesale license to the same figure as the retail license, or even higher. One hundred dollars a year for wholesale houses is a nominal license, and in my judgment it should be raised to a figure proportionate to the amount of business they do.

"I am opposed to the law on the ground that it works an injustice to grocery men, who are the least troublesome of liquor dealers, and I shall use my best endeavors to remedy the matter in some way. I shall consult legal advice and look into the matter and then bring it up for reconsideration at the next meeting of the city council."

PREPARING FOR BUSINESS.

The Yaquina Deep Sea Fishing Company Has Secured a Competent Manager.

The Yaquina Deep Sea Fishing Company, which organized in December last, with a capital stock of $250,000, owned and controlled by residents of this city, recently secured the services of Mr. Luther Maddocks, of Boothbay, Me., as general manager. Mr. Maddocks has a thorough knowledge of the fishing business, and is a man of ability and energy. He is secretary of the National Fisheries Association, which he represented at Washington during Centennial year. He arrived here a week ago, and proceeded to San Francisco to superintend the putting in of the machinery of the company's steam schooner, George H. Chance. The schooner, after being fitted and equipped with all the necessary modern fishing appliances, and with a crew of picked men, educated in the Atlantic fisheries, will proceed with the manager, Mr. Maddocks, to visit and investigate the fishing banks north of San Francisco, for the purpose of determining the relative value of the different banks, giving especial attention to the Heceta and other banks, located in the vicinity of Yaquina bay, Or. The receiving and shipping station of the company will be on their own land at Yaquina, where they have store houses and water front contiguous to the main track of the Oregon Pacific Railroad Company. From there the fish will be shipped in refrigerator cars to Portland, and cold-stored in this city, ready for distribution to final destination. It is the intention of the company in the near future to engage in salting, smoking and otherwise preserving their surplus fish, as also the manufacture of fish oil, thus utilizing and making profitable another of the natural resources of this great Pacific Northwest, as well as affording our citizens a constant supply of every variety of fish known to abound in the waters of the North Pacific.

STATE TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

TUESDAY MORNING, July 2.

Departments of superintendence met in the senate chamber at 8 o'clock. The morning was devoted to the discussion of the apportionment of school money, and the expenditure of the same; the granting of certificates under the new law, the granting of temporary certificates and recommendations for state papers.

At the suggestion of State Superintendent McElroy, this department adjourned until 1 o'clock, in order to attend the regular session of the association.

The association convened in legislative hall at 9:30. City Superintendent Randle, of Salem, read a very able paper on "How to Detect and Prevent Imperfect Lessons."

A spirited discussion followed in which the following named persons participated: Professor Lane, of Salem; Superintendent Hutchinson, of Douglas County; Professor Willis, of the Dalles; Professor Walker, of Albany; Mr. Simpson, of Marion County; Professor Royal, of Pendleton; Professor Briscoe, of the Agricultural College, and Colonel Copeland. Colonel Copeland's remarks were timely and were highly enjoyed.

Professor J. B. Horner, of Roseburg, then followed with a talk on "Physiology and Hygiene in Schools." Professor W. C. Hawley, of Drain Normal School, presented a very excellent home-made physiological chart, which he uses in the normal. Any ingenious teacher can provide himself, at a small expense, with much apparatus of this character, which will materially aid him in his work.

Mrs. R. S. Wallace, on behalf of the State W. C. T. U., presented a paper in which she urged upon the teachers the necessity of giving instructions on the effect of narcotics upon the human system.

"Language Lessons in our Common Schools." was the subject of a paper presented by A. J. Garland, of Wilbur Academy.

This paper was a most excellent one. Adjourned to meet at 1:30 P. M.

MILITARY ORDERS.

Instructions to the First Regiment Regarding the Observance of the Fourth of July.

The following orders have been issued by Colonel Charles F. Beebe, of the First regiment O. N. G.:

This regiment will parade fully uniformed, armed and equipped on Thursday, July 4, next, for the purpose of participating in field maneuvers and sham battle to be held under the direction of Brigadier-General John Gibbon, U. S. A., at Vancouver barracks, W. T., in commemoration of the National holiday, and in furtherance of measures devised to accumulate funds for the relief of suffering at Johnstown, Pa. Assembly at 12:30 P. M. sharp. Field and staff will report dismounted to the colonel, and non-commissioned staff, band, and drum corps to the adjutant at the same hour and place.

Attention is hereby called to advertisements in the daily press announcing a series of excursions from this city to Vancouver on July 4, to take place under the auspices of this regiment. The regiment will take passage on the second trip, leaving Portland early in the afternoon. Shortly after the close of the military exercises at the post, the excursion boat will return to Portland to afford to such members of the regiment and excursionists as may not desire to remain and witness the fireworks display, an opportunity of reaching home early in the evening. A second return trip will be made, leaving Vancouver after the close of the fireworks display.

Blank ammunition will be served to the regiment upon its arrival at the post. Commanding officers of companies will rigidly inspect the pieces, clothing and equipments of their men before leaving the armory, and will see that no ammunition of any description, or cartridge shells are carried therein.

The commandant takes this opportunity to renew the expression of his sincere appreciation of the opportunity thus afforded the officers and men of this regiment to engage in important and realistic field exercises and action. As an adjunct to the school of instruction which fits the national guardsman to take command of men in the event of a general call to arms, its importance cannot be overestimated, and for this reason and because of the pride in our organization which prompts an earnest and united effort to ensure the satisfactory accomplishment of whatever it is called upon to undertake, the commandant feels assured that every member of the regiment, who may not be unavoidably prevented from so doing, will rally to its standard on this occasion.

Honorable discharges have been issued as follows: To Corporal M. A. M. Ashley, Company A; Private J. F. Porter, Company C; Privates A. F. Friese and C. P. Bryant, Company E; and Private W. S. Stokes, Company H.

THE P. G. & C. V. R. R.

Officers Elected—The Surveys To Be Completed and Work Begun as Soon as Possible.

The stockholders of the Pasco, Goldendale & Columbia Valley railroad held their annual meeting at Goldendale on Monday last. The following board of directors was elected: R. O. Dunbar, I. N. Muney, C. S. Rinehart, Wm. Cumming, E. B. Wise, R. A. Habersham, J. W. O'Keefe, W. P. Gray, Joseph Nesbit, E. W. Pike, Sol Smith, W. R. Dunbar and A. Howard.

The directors organized by the election of the following officers: R. O. Dunbar, president; I. N. Muney, vice president; C. S. Rinehart, secretary, and Wm. Cumming, treasurer.

The business of the company seems to be in good condition and the stockholders in good spirits, feeling assured that the railroad will be pushed to completion as fast as possible. The survey as far as completed shows an excellent grade, and, running as it does through the best portions of the territory, gives the assurance that they will have the best local line that can be built. Then add to this the connection with transcontinental lines and also with the city of Portland, and they will have the best line for the accommodation of the traveling public, running as it does not only through a rich farming country, but through the finest of timber and mineral fields, as well as through a country noted for the grandeur of its scenery. With all these facts before them, the new board of officers enter upon their duties full of hopes, expecting to push the survey on to completion as fast as possible, also to be making all arrangements possible for the early commencement of the grading. The right of way is pretty well secured, in fact no trouble is apprehended in this matter or in securing depot grounds and all that is necessary in order to successfully build the road.

MUCH ADO ABOUT NOTHING.

A Man Splits Open the Scalp of Another With a Beer Glass and Is Acquitted.

Ned Hart had a hearing in the police court yesterday afternoon on a charge of assaulting J. R. Brooks with a dangerous weapon. The weapon in the affair was a beer glass that Hart threw at the head of Brooks in an altercation last Thursday evening. The difficulty between the two men occurred at the house of Mrs. Ivers, a very respectable lady residing at the corner of Tenth and K streets, and the circumstances of the affair is best told in her own words:

"There was a surprise party at the house," said Mrs. Ivers, "and a number of our friends, including Mr. Hart, had been invited. Brooks, who has a room from us, and Hart, had some words out on the street early in the evening, after which the former went away. He returned about 10 o'clock, and, rushing up to Mr. Hart, who was engaged in conversation, said, "Now as you and your wife are together I want to have it out," (referring to some remarks Mrs. Hart had made about him.) I want satisfaction. Mr. Hart tried to put him off but Brooks insisted upon getting satisfaction. A scuffle ensued, during which Brooks called for a knife. Not receiving the weapon he seized a sauce pan on the stove, and was about to throw it at Hart, when others interfered. Hart then picked up a glass and threw it at Brooks's head, cutting a deep gash, from which the blood flowed freely." The story of the two principals was substantially the same only each accused the other of making the first assault.

Brooks said that Hart "smacked" him first and then he reached for the sauce pan to "smack" back.

The case had the benefit of a three hours' argument by learned counsel and then the court discharged the defendant.

THE STAGE.

NEW PARK THEATER.—Karl Gardner, in his romantic play, "Fatherland," drew another delighted audience last night, and his sweet singing and graceful acting received abundant applause. There is a charm about the free-hearted mountaineer, Herman Leopold, as depicted by Mr. Gardner. He invests the character with such an air of reality that for the time being we are wandering among the mountains of his native land and listening to the melodies of the "Fatherland." That exquisite air, "The Lilac," grows upon the ear with each repetition, and it lingers in the memory as we leave the theater.

"Fatherland" again to-night and Fourth of July matinee.

CORDRAY'S MUSEE AND THEATER.—There could be no more favorable augury for the success of this new enterprise than the eager audience that attended the second performance of Lynwood last evening. The capacities of the tent-covered structure were taxed to their uttermost to hold the people and they all went away thoroughly satisfied with the entertainment afforded them. The play was admirably presented and Miss Essie Tittel gained unstinted applause for her conscientious, artistic work in delineating the heroine. Little Minnie's specialties, too, were generously applauded, while the acting of Mr. George K. Caine and Mr. Morris, in their respective roles, met with hearty appreciation.

The curiosities of the Musee, especially the monkeys, were greatly enjoyed by all.

"Lynwood" for the remainder of the week.

PASTE AND DIAMONDS.

On Monday, June 8, Pretty Mattie Vickers and her company of New York favorites will commence a three nights' engagement at the New Park theater, presenting her wonderfully successful comedy, "Jacquine, or Paste and Diamonds." This extremely funny satire is from the [illegible] pen of Gaylor, that master of refined comedy, and is a humorous reflection of life behind the scenes. The play was written for the sole purpose [illegible] laughter, and five years of uninterrupted popularity attest the merit of the skit. The company embraces a number of well known comedians.

WATER COMMITTEE MEETS.

The Report of the Operating Department Shows Increased Profits.

Specifications for a Pump and Pipe Adopted and Bids Ordered Advertised for—The Usual Monthly Business.

A regular meeting of the water committee was held yesterday at the usual place, Mr. Henry Failing, chairman, presiding, and Messrs. H. W. Corbett, W. K. Smith, J. Lowenberg, L. Therkelsen, F. Dekum, A. H. Johnson, C. H. Lewis and T. M. Richardson present.

Warrants were ordered drawn, on account of the extension of water mains, for $2100 78.

The treasurer's report was submitted and ordered filed.

Ordered that a report of the receipts and disbursements, signed by the chairman and clerk, be filed with the city auditor, as required by law.

The operating department submitted a report of the disbursements of the City Water Works for the month of June, as follows:

Comparative statement of earnings and expenses of operating department for first six months of 1888 and 1889:

Total expenses of six months		24,954 43
Interest charges		15,000 00

During the month of June the average amount of water pumped daily was 7,090,000 gallons. The maximum amount pumped in one day was 8,786,000 gallons.

In regard to a petition for a main on S street, from Twenty-second to Twenty-sixth, Superintendent Smith reported that the pipe should be eight inches in diameter and that the cost would be about $2603.

Considerable discussion followed as to the advisability of laying this main, but as there was enough pipe on hand to do this and also to lay an eight-inch main from Front down Harrison to Water and south on Water four blocks, it was at last decided to do both jobs and so dispose of all the pipe on hand, and then stop all extensions of mains for the present, owing to the large expenditure to be made for a pump and pipe line to Palatine Hill.

Superintendent Smith submitted a report on the proposition of the Union Iron Works to put in perfect combustion furnaces at the pumping station at Palatine hill. The first offer was to put in the furnaces and take the amount saved in fuel for a certain time for payment. An offer has since been made to put in the furnaces for a stated price and guarantee a reduction of 10 per cent. in the consumption of fuel. Mr. Smith said he could see no objections to making a trial of the furnaces, as they would be taken out free of expense if not satisfactory. The furnaces are in use at the Portland Ice Works and a report in regard to their workings has been promised Mr. Smith. On motion the matter was laid on the table till the report from the ice works was received.

Superintendent Smith submitted specifications on a 10,000,000 gallon pump for the station at Palatine hill, which after some discussion were adopted, and he was authorized to receive proposals in accordance with the specifications, the pump to be completed in nine months.

As representatives of the Worthington Pump Company and the Holly Pump Company are in the city it was not deemed necessary to advertise for bids for the pump.

Superintendent Smith also submitted specifications for a pipe line to Palatine Hill. The pipe to the city limits is to be cast iron, and from there to the pumping station, four and one-half miles, the specifications were for cast iron, or for wrought iron of two grades, having a tensile strength of 45,000 and 50,000 pounds.

Mr. Loewenberg said that steel was now being largely used in place of iron and it might be well to include steel in the specifications.

After a long discussion in which the members of the committee became so interested that they forgot all about their dinners, the specifications were amended to include steel of the same thickness and tensile strength as the best iron, and the specifications as amended were adopted, and the superintendent was authorized to advertise for bids to be submitted within thirty days.

Adjourned.

I'M AFTER THEM!

I'M AFTER THEM!

Look out for the sleek tongued varments that tell you the Advance is not the best machine in the market Those that tell you falsehoods are not worthy of being called by any other name The ADVANCE is guaranteed to do more and better work than any other machine in the market and is the only machine on the Coast that has NEVER been replaced by other machines Other dealers have offered new machines for an ADVANCE that has been run two years and have given parties to understand they would give differences but were told that the ADVANCE after two years' run was still much better than all fogy machines, if they were new And if the ADVANCE engine is not the best traction engine why is it that I have sold TWELVE on the West Side between Portland and Corvallis this year?

ASTORIA MUST WAIT.

Colonel Crocker Says Mr. Reid Must Have Been Joking.

HIS COMPANY IS NOT INTERESTED

A Line To Be Constructed From Vancouver to Vancouver

A NEW TRANSCONTINENTAL ROAD.

New Northern Pacific Bonds—The Atchison Seeking a San Francisco Terminus—Rate Cutting in the East

SAN FRANCISCO June 3—Colonel C F Crocker vice president of the Southern Pacific company stated in an interview to day, in answer to an inquiry "Our company has not decided to build a road into Astoria. It seems William Reed has given rise to an impression in certain quarters that we were interested with him in the Astoria project, but we are not. Such proposition has not even been discussed by the directors Some rough mountains would have to be climbed to get into Astoria and we are not prepared to spend money on such a venture

"I will say however that by reason of our purchase of the Oregon & California road, we have a land grant for a road to Astoria from Portland It is a part of the former line's land grant. A survey has been made over this land to Astoria and this projected road is down on the maps as the Oregon Central railroad If we build it, I suppose the land grant along its line would belong to us At the time the Holladay and Villard interests controlled the Oregon & California there was much talk of building it Since our company got control there has not been any earnest agitation for its construction The immediate prospects are not favorable for reaching Astoria

INDEPENDENT ON THE COAL QUESTION

SAN FRANCISCO July 3—General Superintendent Fillmore of the Southern Pacific Company states that the company is now independent of all other corporations on the coal question The output of the Union Bay and Carbon Hill mines suffices for California The Central Pacific is supplied from the Rocky mountain mines while Texas and Arizona are supplied from Mexico The company is no longer dependent on foreign sources of supply

VANCOUVER TO VANCOUVER

Increase of the Capital Stock of the Fairhaven & Southern

TACOMA W T July 3—Vice President Wilson of the Fairhaven & Southern railway, to day told your correspondent that his company had increased its capital stock from $1 000 000 to $6 000 000 and had made arrangements for building a line directly through Tacoma from Vancouver British Columbia to Vancouver W T Engineers are now out making the location and it is expected that work will be begun in a few days This is the company of which Nelson Bennett is president and Mr Wilson says the work will be vigorously prosecuted to completion at the very earliest possible date.

THE RIO GRANDE WESTERN

Talk of Its Extension to the Pacific Coast.

SAN FRANCISCO July 3 George Dodge an official of the Rio Grande Western railway who is now in the city speaking to day on the probable extension of his line to the Pacific coast said "Surveys have been made from Salt Lake to the California line running south of the Central Pacific on an average of about 200 miles through mining towns of Utah and Nevada. The engineers reports have been most favorable They say that the road will run through a paying country outside of the first 100 miles west of Salt Lake As soon as a decision is reached about this part of the programme the road can be constructed within twelve months It will be practically impossible to shorten up the distance from Salt Lake to San Francisco so far as the Central line is concerned The engineers tell us that ours will be the better line of the two in the matter of grades and of course you recognize what this means"

NEW NORTHERN PACIFIC BONDS

They Will Probably Be in the Shape of a Collateral Trust Loan

NEW YORK July 3—The dispatches stating that the Northern Pacific company intended to issue $15 000 000 in new bonds are confirmed at the offices of the company here and one of the officials made the following statement "A plan for raising money to improve our Pacific coast property which requires additional equipment and also to take up the Oregon & Transcontinental bonds permitting that company to wind up its affairs has been discussed but nothing definite has been decided on It will probably be in the shape of a collateral trust loan"

FOR A SAN FRANCISCO TERMINUS

Revival of the Old Rumor About the A T & S F.

SAN FRANCISCO July 3—An evening paper says "It is learned from a reliable source that the Atchison Topeka & Santa Fe road has made all arrangements for a San Francisco terminus Cars are to be run to Tiburon a station of the San Francisco & North Pacific road in Marin county and passengers and freight are to be ferried across the bay to this city The statement could not be verified to night

Tiburon is north of and across the bay from this city while all previous rumors have located the terminus east or south of here

A RAILROAD BOMBSHELL

The Baltimore & Ohio Cuts Loose From the Trunk Lines

BALTIMORE July 3—The Baltimore & Ohio railway has issued notice that commencing July 6 it will take action independent of the trunk lines and will make a rate on wheat and corn from Chicago to New York of 20 cents This is a good deal like a bombshell

FROM CHICAGO TO DENVER.

Cut Rates Via the Alton Denver & Rio Grande and Union Pacific

DENVER Colo July 3 F S Lomax general [illegible] agent of the Union Pacific at Omaha this morning notified the Union Pacific and Denver & Rio Grande Denver offices of a notification that he had received from the Chicago & Alton road relative to a rate of $20 from Denver to Chicago

The Alton road agrees to accept $7 85 as its share of all receipts on tickets sold on their line

Mr Lomax declares that the Union Pacific will meet the cut and that it will go into effect Monday July 8 and he agrees a similar rate from Colorado Springs and Pueblo on all tickets sold via the Rock Island and Alton roads.

Chief Clerk Wadleigh of the Rio Grande, stated to a reporter that the situation had as yet not been discussed but that all of the Eastern roads would doubtless make a $26 rate to Chicago

The Alton's latest action makes the fare from Chicago to Denver and vice versa the same $20 or a reduction of $4 65.

THE THIRST FOR BLOOD

Thousands of People Will Witness the Great Fight.

THE BETTING IN NEW ORLEANS

Kilrain Starts for the Battlefield—He Looks Weary and Over Trained—A Cosmopolitan Crowd

NEW ORLEANS July 3—As the day of the battle draws near, the excitement becomes more intense, and thousands of people express themselves as being anxious to go to the scene of the mill no matter where it takes place

The betting on the result was not very lively to-day there being plenty of Sullivan money and but little Kilrain money in sight The Kilrain men are holding back for the advent of the bookmakers and the knowing ones who are expected in One bet of $300 to $250 on Sullivan was placed to day and bets of $100 to $80 and $100 to $60 on Sullivan were offered, but found no takers The Sullivan men are not offering odds because they underrate Kilrain but because the latter's friends are shy just now

Professor Butler will have charge of the ring The police will number 200 men and the managers of the fight give assurance that the utmost order will be maintained

A special train left over the Queen & Crescent route to day having as passengers the managers and friends of the two sluggers and they did not return until late to-night

The Young Men's Gymnasium Club held a meeting to night to arrange for the reception of Sullivan who will reach here to-morrow

KILRAIN STARTS FOR NEW ORLEANS

He Looks Tired and Has an Appearance of Over-Training

BALTIMORE July 3—Jake Kilrain left Baltimore at 2 15 this afternoon accompanied by Johnnie Murphy Pony Moore and Mitchell Jake was unshaven and looked tired and serious though he assured every one that he felt tip-top The train is expected to arrive at New Orleans at 11 o clock Friday Betting here is 100 to 90 on Sullivan Kilrain looks as if he were trained a trifle fine to stand a long bruising contest though he is hard as a rock.

A COSMOPOLITAN CROWD

CUMBERLAND Md July 3 The Baltimore & Ohio train due here at 7 P M was delayed by the storm

Kilrain and his party were on board The party took supper at the Queen City hotel. Kilrain ate heartily The dining room was crowded and had to be cleared by the police

Kilrain said that he did not want to talk He wanted to eat but felt first rate and expected a good night's sleep

John G Cannon candidate for the next speakership of the house of representatives was in the car next to that occupied by Kilrain

On the rear of the train in a private car were Mr Harrison Baby McKee Private Secretary Halford Dr Scott Mrs Harrison's sister and others The president will join them at Deer Park in a few days

SULLIVAN'S MOVEMENTS

He Quietly Left Cincinnati to Dodge the Authorities

CINCINNATI July 3—John L Sullivan and party left this morning for New Orleans They left no information concerning their plan of procedure whether they would go through by regular train or whether to avoid a suggested capture in Missouri they would secretly change their plans and sneak through the state by a special train or some unexpected route

TO INTERCEPT FIGHTING

JACKSON Tenn June 3.—Governor Lowry has telegraphed the governors of Alabama and Louisiana for permission to pass armed militia men through their respective states preparatory to intercepting Sullivan and Kilrain should they enter the state to fight.

THE SIOUX COMMISSION

The Indians Signing Rapidly at the Lower Brule Agency

LOWER BRULE AGENCY July 3—In this morning's council Iron Nation said that he was the head chief and leader of the tribe and that he should sign the bill and his people would follow but that he would like the commissioners to read the bill again so that all could understand it. This was done

General Crook then said that now they were all willing to sign they had better sign this afternoon, that to morrow was the Fourth of July and that the fact that the Indians at Lower Brule had signed would be telegraphed all over the country and all their friends would hear the news and be pleased

After a few questions had been asked regarding the bill Iron Nation then arose and addressed General Crook

He said "Three Stars I am going to sign because you tell me that this is a good bill but before I do so I want you to promise to be a good friend to the Indians here We want to remain on the White river and wish you to tell the Great Father"

Little Hand Thunder endeavored to check the movement of the bill but was unsuccessful

Iron Nation signed first and was followed in the order of rank by the other chiefs

The conversion of Iron Nation Little Thunder Dead Hand and Surrounded the leaders of last year's opposition was a triumph hardly equaled in the record of Indian negotiations and for which the commissioners deserve great credit

Yesterday afternoon Crook at the request of the chiefs had a private talk with them and at this conference the programme which has been successfully carried out to day was agreed upon

The Indians are signing as rapidly as possible

FOR A CONSTITUTION

Nearly All the Delegates Have Gathered at Olympia.

QUESTIONS THAT HAVE ARISEN

The Woman Suffragists Meet and Adopt a Series of Resolutions.

WHO WILL BE THE CHAIRMAN?

An Active Canvass for the Honors of the Convention—The City Crowded Already—The Programme for To Day

OLYMPIA W T July 3—The process of evolution from territory to state begins in earnest to morrow Flags are flying The majority of the delegates are here button-holing is a livelier industry than collecting Olympian oysters on the flats and there are almost as many candidates for office as there are members of the constitutional convention

Out of the seventy five members but thirty five were in town this morning Not half the others arrived by train from Portland this afternoon and by boat from Tacoma and Seattle this evening As they arrived in the city they visited the office of the secretary of the territory and were given a new certificate of election, stamped with a big golden seal, signed by Governor Moore and Secretary White

There is one gentleman on his way here who will not get a certificate He thinks he is a member but he is ten votes short of his opponent J J Travis of Colville. He is W. W Waltman from Stevens county (First district.) Nearly every newspaper in the territory had Mr Waltman elected, but all the returns for the First district had not reached the secretary's office here until the 19th of June, when it was found that Travis had 333 votes and Waltman only 323. Both are democrats

It was quite a task for Secretary White and Clerk Cowles to compile the consolidated returns which has been done in neat form showing at a glance the entire vote cast for every delegate I find in glancing over the table that P C Sullivan the young lawyer of Tacoma received a larger number of votes than any other delegate in the territory 924. The other highest votes received were for D T Minor, of Seattle 872; George Turner of Spokane Falls, 823 and James Power of La Conner 813 All are republicans

From what has been ascertained of the nativity of the members Missouri evidently takes the lead John M Reed of Oakesdale, one of the members from the seventh district, said to-day that he remembered when he was a member of the Oregon legislature from Clackamas, that two-thirds of that legislature were native Missourians and that it was a pretty good state to come from.

The professional men lawyers and doctors are in the minority in the convention. When it was stated that seven doctors had already been heard from and the returns not all in it was suggested that vital statistics and sanitary measures would at least have a fair show in the new constitution There is a fair sprinkling of bankers a few editors and a farmer a mechanic and a business man here and there The majority of the members are those trained in the habit of thinking and there will be enough to think about during the session

There are a dozen old timers in the membership some of whom were in the territory when it was part of Oregon One of them, Edward Eldridge of Whatcom a most interesting talker who was chairman of the Walla Walla state convention has a laudable ambition to preside over this one. One of the youngest looking pioneers of the territory by the way is the official who hands the members their certificates Secretary O C White who went to school in Olympia twenty six years ago In fact he was in the territory before Gwin Hicks the youngest member was born The oldest member heard from yet is D Buchanan of Ritzville, Adams county a native of Scotland He is 69 There are several natives of Scotland, Ireland and Germany among the members.

TIDE FLAT LANDS

How to dispose of the tide flat lands will be one of the leading questions in the convention Washington with her great stretch of shore line is more peculiarly situated in respect to this question than almost any other state in the Union and many of the members with whom I have talked from both sides of the mountains, favor the adoption of the fifteenth article of the California constitution on this subject, which says "The right of eminent domain is hereby declared to exist in the state to all frontages in the navigable waters of the state No individual, partnership or corporation claiming or possessing the frontage or tidal lands of a harbor bay inlet or estuary or other navigable waters in the state shall be permitted to exclude the right of way to such water whenever it is required for any public purpose, nor to destroy nor obstruct the free navigation of such water and the legislature shall enact such laws as will give the most liberal construction to these provisions so that access to the navigable waters of the state shall always be attainable for the people thereof"

Some of the members of the convention I find opposed to any monopoly of water furnished to municipalities They are desirous of attaching an article to the state constitution something similar to the California constitution which gives to the city council or board of supervisors the right to prescribe rates for the use of water supplied to any city and county city or town by ordinance or otherwise and fixed from year to year. It also prescribes in what manner such ordinance shall be passed "Any person company or corporation collecting water rates in any city and county or city and town in this state otherwise than as established, shall forfeit the franchise and water works of such person company or corporation to the city and county or city and town where the same are collected for the public use The right to collect rates or compensation for the use of water supplied to any county, city and country or town or the inhabitants thereof is a franchise and cannot be exercised except by the authority and in the manner prescribed by law"

THE WOMAN SUFFRAGISTS.

A Meeting Held in the Afternoon and Resolutions Adopted.

The friends of Woman Suffrage are here in force this afternoon At a meeting in Tacoma hall fifty persons were present All are in favor of Judge John P Hoyt for the presidency as he is a known friend of the movement Mrs Zerelda A McCoy of Tacoma presided The following resolutions were adopted

WHEREAS Three successive legislative assemblies of the territory of Washington have enacted laws conferring the right of suffrage upon women which laws have received the approval of three successive governors and have been sanctioned and indorsed by all political parties, as well as by the people generally of the territory, therefore

Resolved That it is the sentiment of this meeting and as we believe of the territory, that the elective franchise should not be denied to any citizen on account of sex that justice and equal rights should be accorded alike to all citizens, male and female and that a provision to that effect should be embodied in the constitution of the state of Washington.

Resolved, That so long as more than 20,000 of
